2 BIG REASONS FOR VICTORY OF DEMOCRAT

Shutdown of Factories and Prohibition Head Causes of G. O. P. Defeat
NOT PERSONALITY ISSUE
Economic Factor Most Outstanding in Massachusetts Election

Copyright 1930, by Post Pub. Co.
Springfield, Mass.—Most everybody here was surprised at the landslide which swept into office William J. Granfield, the first Democrat elected to congress in the history of the second district.
If Mr. Granfield had won by a narrow margin—that is, if he had won by a few votes—there would have been much less surprise, but to win by more than 7,500 votes, which means a change of about 15,000 votes, is something so sensational that a search for the causes becomes pertinent.
Inquiry here discloses that as between Mr. Granfield and his republican opponent, Fred Griggs, there was not much on the personality side to cause an upheaval, as both were considered good men. Mr. Griggs, for example, made a good man in the primary against the late Representative Karpner.
Two fundamental reasons are given for the defeat of Mr. Griggs. One is his failure to meet the prohibition issue as positively as did his opponent. The other reason is to be found in the shut-down of factories and adverse economic conditions. Mr. Griggs told his audiences that he was personally dry but that, considering the wetness of his district, he would feel that he was under a mandate to vote for repeal and modification of existing laws whenever a constructive alternative was suggested to congress. Mr. Granfield on the other hand is an out-and-out wet. As between the two the voters here preferred the dryness of Mr. Granfield to what they termed a straddle on the part of Mr. Griggs.

APPEAL IS FAILURE
Mr. Griggs appealed to the public as a champion of President Hoover; namely to send him to congress to support the president. Northampton, where former President Coolidge lives, is a Republican stronghold but Mr. Granfield carried every ward in it.
Newspaper support for Mr. Granfield was not as powerful as that for Mr. Griggs. To a small extent, perhaps, the religious issue may have played a part in that Mr. Granfield, an Irish Catholic, naturally consolidated the votes of his co-religionists, though it is contended on the other hand that nearly all the Irish Catholics in this vicinity are Democrats anyhow.
Mr. Granfield had the benefit of an aggressive organization of Democrats in Springfield. It was this organization of young men who put Mayor Winter, Democrat, in power in this Republican environment. The vote in yesterday's election was unusually large and this is attributed to the efforts of the Democratic organization in getting the voters to the polls.

Broadly speaking, the result will be attributed to the economic factor and will serve as a warning to the Hoover administration that the discontented voters always throw the strength against the party in power whenever the unemployment curves are high. Massachusetts voted for Al Smith in the last election and if Republican sections like Springfield and the Second district generally sent a Democrat to congress for the first time in history, it is easy to infer that an election held throughout Massachusetts on national issues would see material gains by the Democratic party.
This is particularly important because Massachusetts next autumn must elect a successor to Senator Gillett. Unless conditions are improved in the factories between now and the autumn, there is a substantial body of opinion here which inclines toward the belief that the Republicans will have a hard time holding other districts in line. There is nothing unusual about this; the party in power always runs into the economic problem and gets the benefit of it when prosperity is at its height and is apt to lose many seats in an off-year election if business is depressed.

FREE MAN AS SUSPECT IN THEATRE ROBBERY
Kenosha—(AP)—Angelo Tarello, 36, today was free of charges that he, joined with three other men to rob the Kenosha theatre of $1,750 last fall. A circuit court jury which deliberated six hours yesterday, acquitted his alibi that he was in Chicago at the time of the safe robbery.

Pair Slain By 4 Gunmen In New York

New York—(AP)—A woman identified as a dancehall hostess and her escort were killed early today by four gunmen who alighted from an automobile, chased them when they fled in opposite directions and shot them down. The killers escaped in their automobile.
Several hours after the shooting the body of the woman was identified as that of May Smith, 24, who came to New York more than a year ago from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and had been employed as a dancehall hostess. Her escort was Carmine Barelli, 30, of the Bronx, who police said was known in the Bronx as a gambler and had a criminal record dating back to 1919.

Barelli died a few minutes after the shooting, and the woman while being taken to Morrisania hospital. The two were walking on Inwood-ave, the Bronx, when the four men alighted from their machine.
Employees of a nearby garage told the police the man and woman had proceeded about 50 feet from a garage where he had stored his car when the automobile with the four men drew up to the curb beside them.
As the men stepped from the machine, the woman screamed and started to run north, while Barelli fled in the opposite direction. Two of the men chased the woman, who after running a few yards tripped and fell. They then fired four shots at her, one of which entered the back of her neck and the other between the shoulder blades.
Her screams attracted a Negro washer who had admitted the couple to the Sherman garage a few minutes earlier. He ran to the street, picked her up and placed her in a taxi cab. She was dead when examined by a hospital surgeon.
Meanwhile, the other two gunmen chased Barelli to the entrance of another garage where they fired five shots at him. One pierced his chin and the other his chest. A garage employee called an ambulance, but Barelli died before its arrival. At the Sherman garage it was said that Barelli had been storing his car there for the last two weeks under the name of "C. Barelli."

YELLOWLEY WON'T CHANGE HIS POST

But Doran Says Deputy May Be Transferred at His Own Request

Washington—(AP)—Prohibition Commissioner Doran said today that E. C. Yellowley, prohibition administrator at Chicago, would remain in that district and characterized reports that Yellowley was to be transferred as erroneous.
The commissioner said, however, that George Huriburt, deputy administrator at Chicago, had requested he be transferred to the west coast and said this might be done if a place could be found for him.
Frank Cunningham, deputy administrator at Milwaukee, Doran said, was being considered as Huriburt's successor in Chicago if the latter were transferred.

200 HARVARD STUDENTS IN MIXUP WITH POLICE

Cambridge, Mass.—(AP)—Two hundred Harvard students who celebrated a hockey victory on a subway train returning from Boston last night by tearing down signs, breaking windows and light bulbs, have had their names taken by police. One student was arrested.
On being warned that the mob-filled train was coming from Boston, a squad of officers refused to allow the students to get off here. They were carried to the subway train yards on the train and in patrol wagons to the police station. Their names and addresses were taken and then they were released. Police said they would turn the names over to the elevated railway.
Henry T. Conway, 13, a first year student of the engineering school, was arrested on a charge of causing a disturbance in a public conveyance. Officers said they found a piece of bell cord on him.
The demonstration occurred after the Harvard team defeated the University club, 4 to 3.

TO REVEAL TREATMENT FOR CANCER MARCH 11

San Francisco—(AP)—Dr. Walter B. Coffey, co-discoverer with Dr. John D. Humber of a treatment for cancer, today announced the details of his much discussed experiments would be revealed March 11 in a report to the San Francisco County Medical society. The report then will be forwarded to the American Medical society.

WANT VOTERS TO DECIDE ON U. S. DRY LAW

Washington—(AP)—A group of calm but determined women today raised their voices on Capitol Hill in protest against prohibition and as soon as they had presented their views William Cabell Bruce of Maryland, a former senator and a caustic critic of the dry law, spoke out for an immediate change in the prohibition statute.
Appearing at the second day of hearing by the house judiciary committee on resolutions proposing either repeal or a referendum on the eighteenth amendment, the women argued that the time had come when the electorate should pass by ballot upon the dry law. Bruce had just started his testimony when the committee recessed over the noon hour.

After another the women appeared before the house judiciary committee on resolutions proposing either repeal or a referendum on the eighteenth amendment, the women argued that the time had come when the electorate should pass by ballot upon the dry law. Bruce had just started his testimony when the committee recessed over the noon hour.
One after another the women appeared before the house judiciary committee on resolutions proposing either repeal or a referendum on the eighteenth amendment, the women argued that the time had come when the electorate should pass by ballot upon the dry law. Bruce had just started his testimony when the committee recessed over the noon hour.

URGES REFERENDUM

Mrs. Norton said a referendum would give the voters the privilege of registering their own will.
"The drys express their confidence that they have an overwhelming majority of the people of the United States in favor of the eighteenth amendment," she said. "If so, why should they not welcome the direct approval of the people themselves, the approval which the people have not heretofore had an opportunity to express?"
"Regardless of their convictions," she continued, "the eighteenth amendment, the American people want to be fair. A normal American citizen, regardless of beliefs on the eighteenth amendment, would readily concur in the principle that the amendment should not remain in the constitution without majority approval of the people of the United States."
"I believe that practically every intelligent dry who can give this is a conscientious judgment, will concede that it is best for this country that the eighteenth amendment should cease to be a part of the constitution when a majority of the people of the nation go to the polls and register their judgment against it."

WOULD PUT SHERIFF UNDER CIVIL SERVICE

Racine—(AP)—The county board yesterday discussed the advisability of removing the sheriff's office from politics by placing it under civil service appointment. No definite action was taken.
The board passed a resolution calling for a petition to be presented to the next legislature asking that the vocational school law be amended to permit judges to make rulings in special cases wherein boys, while required by law to attend school, may be excused to work in case poverty in their family makes it necessary.

AUSTRALIAN STATE TO VOTE ON DRY LAW

Melbourne, Australia—(AP)—A compulsory referendum will be held on the question of prohibition of alcoholic liquors in the state of Victoria March 29. Melbourne and some of its suburbs already are dry and an intense campaign is being made by both sides through newspapers, posters and speeches to extend or prevent extension of the prohibition area in the rest of the state.
The prohibitionists must obtain a three-fifths majority to carry the day. It is estimated that 1,100,000 persons will vote on the proposal.

28 PERSONS KILLED IN RUSSIAN BLAST

Rostov-on-Don, U. S. S. R.—(AP)—Twenty-eight persons were killed and sixteen others injured seriously in an explosion at the state grain mill here last Monday. The casualties were officially announced today.

USE MACHINE GUNS TO FIGHT SCHOOLS OF SHARKS, CLAIM

Chicago—(AP)—Eugene F. McDonald, radio manufacturer and commander of the yacht Mirpash, back from a cruise about the Galapagos islands in the eastern Pacific, greeted friends today with a tale of fighting great schools of sharks with machine guns.
"They were so thick that we were afraid they would endanger the yacht. We killed hundreds of them," McDonald said.
McDonald related that his party, which included several scientists, made discoveries of a scientific nature on the islands so startling that they could not be revealed until after further exploration.
Three sea lions and four giant tortoises, taken by the McDonald party for Chicago zoos, became sick and were left behind when the yacht docked at Miami, Fla.

Chinese Bandit Groups Are Threat To Nationalist Rule

Shanghai—(AP)—The activities of bandits and lawless soldiers throughout China were described today in a report from various areas as having become a grave danger threatening the authority of the Nationalist government and making travel in the interior unsafe for foreigners.
The reports indicated that the broadening scale of bandit operations was becoming more and more apparent.
In Hunan province, bandits were reported to be holding up cargo ships belonging to the Standard Oil company of New York.
These ships, plying between Hankow and Changsha, have been subjected to search by the marauders under the pretext that the vessels were carrying contraband goods.
As a result of these developments American naval authorities ordered a gunboat at Hankow to accompany oil ships and prevent searches. Meanwhile, consular officials at Hankow forwarded details of these occurrences to the American legation at Peking. It is understood that the legation filed a protest with the Nationalist government foreign office at Nanking.
Bandits and undisciplined soldiers along the Yangtze river between Hankow and Chungking continue their lawlessness, subjecting shipping to a rain of bullets with piratical motives.
Japanese advisers said brigands in Kiangsu province were threatening to capture the provincial capital of Nanchang. The provincial military was apparently helpless against the marauders, whose numbers are legion.
A Chinese press dispatch from Nanking said 1,000 organized bandits were pillaging towns in eastern Anhwei and western Kiangsu provinces, all within 50 miles of Nanking, the Nationalist capital.
A similar dispatch from Peiping said:
"Groups of armed women bandits appeared in towns south of Peiping, perpetrating highway robberies."

WARRANT IS ISSUED FOR MISSING WOMAN CASHIER

Chicago—(AP)—The People's State bank of Maywood remained closed today as search was intensified for Miss Laverne D. Lindgren, 25-year-old cashier.
A warrant for her arrest was issued, but bank officials said they could not say what the status of her accounts are, bank auditors having reported the books in such condition they could not interpret them.
Elmer Langruth, 35, president of the bank, was released yesterday under $100,000 bond. The charge against him is embezzlement. It was said that bank officials said, who sponsored Miss Lindgren in her three year rise from switchboard operator to bank cashier.
Miss Lindgren was reported suffering from a nervous breakdown at the home of relatives, but police had been unable to find her early today. A $50,000 home where officers said Miss Lindgren recently built in Maywood, was financed, according to Langruth, by money the young woman received from the estate of her grandmother. Langruth said that "not one cent of the bank's money went into that house."

$20,000 DAMAGE DONE BY BOMB AT CHICAGO PLANT

Chicago—(AP)—The fourteenth day of the year exploded early today in the Easton-ave factory district doing $20,000 damage to the Right Wing and Boiler Repairing company plant and nearby structures.
On Jan. 23 last a bomb exploded at the front of the Central Paper company, next door to the boiler company. Police believe today's bomb was planted in the front of the boiler company building by mistake, the paper stock company being the intended victim.
Michael Doran, owner of the boiler company, heard the explosion at his home several blocks away. Being another attack had been made on a paper company, he investigated to find his own plant and property object of the bomb. A large hole was torn in the front wall of the one-story brick building, but the first damage was to nearby machine shops.
Loney said that in the Jan. 23 bombing the plant was damaged more than that of the paper stock company plant. He declared his plant is owned entirely by organized labor and that there has been no trouble or threats of any kind.
ZIMMERMAN RAPS CHAIN BANKS AND DICTATORS
Madison—(AP)—With a promise to "chain banks and dictators," the late Fred B. Zimmerman would soon fall. Fred B. Zimmerman, former governor, arrived here last night from Spain. He served as U. S. commissioner at the international exposition at Seville for the last five months.
In his comment on chain banks, the former governor said the system is dangerous and has become a menace to the nation's economic structure. He said his prophecy regarding the recent retirement of Primo de Rivera as dictator of Spain. With dictators, citizens have more faith in government, he believed.
Mr. Zimmerman brought a German cashed with him, and said it will share favor with Brownie, the little bulldog that was first dog of the state for two years.

NOAH BEERY REPORTED IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Hollywood, Calif.—(AP)—Noah Beery, motion picture had man, today in real life was waging a desperate battle against the death he has portrayed in numerous villainous roles on the screen.
At the Hollywood hospital, where the film "heavy" yesterday underwent an operation for appendicitis, his condition was described as dangerous.
Operating physicians said a general condition of the appendix was found, and that it was too early to tell whether the infection had spread. Beery's physicians said he was able to talk a little when he came out from under the influence of ether late last night, and that his condition was as good as could be expected.

HOLD MAN FOR PASSING $2,000 IN BAD CHECKS

Milwaukee—(AP)—Frank Farley, who, police said, escaped from the Michigan State prison at Jackson two years ago, was held here today for passing more than $2,000 of worthless checks in Milwaukee department stores. He was caught through a system of notification employed by the Milwaukee Association of Commerce and Confessors.
Police are investigating reports that Farley perpetrated similar forgeries in other midwestern cities.

SHOT BREAKS WINDOW AT TEACHERS' CONFAB

Detroit—(AP)—Nothing like a bullet to dispel some of that academic atmosphere. Seventy members of the Rock River Valley Schoolmasters club were gravely discussing their problems in the dining room of a Detroit college dormitory. A bullet crashed through a window and whirled over their heads to an opposite wall. Police believe it was fired from a passing automobile.

AGREES WITH PROGRAM OF BRITAIN, U. S.

London—(AP)—The French delegation, in a statement issued late this afternoon, defining its position at the present conference announced its willingness to accept a naval program running from 1930 until 1936, establishing a fleet by Dec. 31, 1936, aggregating 721,473 English tons.

Other Delegations Surprised to Find No Reference to Old Demands

London—(AP)—The Japanese delegation, in a statement issued this afternoon, announcing its acceptance of the British and American proposals, said it was surprised to find no reference to the old demands in the Japanese statement touching directly on the heavy cruiser problem said:
"Japan attaches special importance to eight-inch gun cruisers and desires to maintain minimum strength sufficiently for national defense, taking into consideration the strength held by other powers."

WOULD CUT TONNAGE

The delegation declared that Japan was ready to reduce the tonnage of battleships to 25,000 tons and to turn to page 4 col. 6

CLAIM HUGHES DREW UP MUSCLE SHOALS PAPER

Washington—(AP)—Testimony that Charles Evans Hughes, whose confirmation as chief justice of the United States is before the senate, drew up the proposed contract whereby Muscle Shoals would be turned over to the American Cyanamid company, was presented today to the senate lobby committee.
Legislation is now before congress to accept the Cyanamid company's plan for the shoals power and nitrate plant.
W. G. Waldo, consulting engineer of the Tennessee River Improvement association, was on the stand today and a memorandum written by him read before the committee said it had been informed by J. O. Hanna, vice president of the Cyanamid company, that Hughes had drawn up the contract.
The memorandum appeared to be a record of a telephone conversation with G. A. Day of Columbia, executive agent of the National Granite Association.

BOMBING INJURIES FATAL TO REPORTER

Trieste, Italy—(AP)—Gullo Neri, reporter who lost both legs in a bomb explosion which Monday night wrecked the editorial and composing rooms of Popolo d'Italia, died today. There were no other deaths or injuries and two to a minor degree in the explosion. The paper was the official Fascist organ.

GIN PURCHASE TEST CASE Killed--No Seller Found

Washington—(AP)—The charge against Joseph Patrick Carley of buying a half pint of gin, pending today, is charged by the district of Columbia officials, notwithstanding the quick change of affairs, said they intended to prosecute Carley for buying gin, pending other charges of "buying" against persons found in the possession of liquor. It was explained that it was necessary to have an illegal vendor of liquor admit selling to be charged with buying. Carley was arrested outside an alleged speakeasy and the officers reported that they found half a pint of gin in his pocket. He made bond and was charged with buying the liquor and went home with the prospect of much litigation ahead of him. The prospect changed quickly today after he was arraigned in police court.

50 Children Are Injured In Explosion

Gas Accumulating in Empty House Near School Blamed for Blast
New York—(AP)—Fifty school children were injured, 12 of them seriously enough to require hospital treatment, today when an explosion demolished two one-story brick houses and tore out all the windows in one side of Public School 83, at Belmont and Schenectady-ave, Brooklyn.
The explosion occurred in an unoccupied brick dwelling directly across the street from a new wing of the school. Two Negroes were seriously injured. Of the 12 injured taken to hospitals, two were said to be in a serious condition.
Police said they believed the explosion was caused by gas accumulating in the basement of the unoccupied house. They said they found a still in the ruins of the structure, but the still had not been in operation immediately prior to the explosion.

MAKE NEW MOVE TO DROP RACKOW TRIAL

Werner's Action Indicated New Evidence Uncovered by Defense
Fond du Lac—(AP)—A move to free Arthur E. Rackow, twice tried for the alleged poison slaying of his wife, was revealed today through filing of memoranda which indicated new evidence had been uncovered by the defense.
Documents relating to the case were received from Judge E. V. Werner, Appleton, who presided in Rackow's second trial. Twice juries hearing Rackow's case have disagreed. A third trial impends.
No indication was given by Judge Werner concerning the nature of the alleged new evidence other than the statement that "it is my suggestion that this witness be examined under oath before the magistrate who examined the other witnesses in the preliminary examination, and that the contents of the letter referred to be analyzed by an expert agreed upon by the two parties or by two of their own selection."

SON OF LATE SENATOR HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Marquette—(AP)—Grant T. Stephen, son of the late United States senator, Isaac Stephen of Marquette, was injured in an automobile accident and is in a hospital in San Francisco. His injuries are not regarded as serious.

OLEO REPRESENTATIVE MAKES STATE SURVEY

Madison—(AP)—W. A. Demme, representative of a large oleomargarine manufacturing company, has come to Wisconsin to make a survey of the conditions against out of the way areas against butter substitution.

OPPONENTS IN SENATE GAIN MORE POWER

Friends Concede "Big Inroads" but Still Looking for Majority
SEE FURTHER DELAY
Final Decision Depends Upon Attitude of Democrats in Upper House
BULLETIN
Washington—(AP)—Chairman Norris of the senate judiciary committee have not as yet to the senate today he would move to recommence the nomination of Charles Evans Hughes as chief justice of the United States. This motion will be voted upon before the question of confirmation.
The opposition to Mr. Hughes as chief justice of the United States was joined today by Senator Walsh, Montana, the acting Democratic leader.

OPPONENTS IN SENATE GAIN MORE POWER

Washington—(AP)—Encouraged by gains in strength, opposition in the senate to confirmation of Charles Evans Hughes as chief justice of the United States today carried forward its attack with new intensity.
Some friends of the vote were heard that the outcome of the vote was becoming doubtful but Senator Watson, Indiana, the Republican leader, predicted a margin for him of at least 15 votes.
As Senators Nye, North Dakota and La Follette, Wisconsin, both Republicans, and Glass, Democrat, Virginia, resumed the offensive against Hughes on the floor, testimony that Mr. Hughes had drawn the aid of the American Cyanamid company for Muscle Shoals was brandished by the senate floor.
The senate floor committee, after the nominee have been made, is supposed to have served as attorney for corporate interests, and that he favored them at the expense of the people.

POINTS TO POLITICS

The North Dakotan said while there could be no valid objection to the nominee's residing in the state to enter the presidential race there was "grave ground" for objection to his returning to the bench after his venture into politics.
Asserting Hughes had political ambitions once while serving on the court, Nye said he might have them again.

ABILITY UNQUESTIONED

"As I view it," he said, "the issues raised by this nomination transcend the question of the character of the nominee, of his ability which, of course, no one in the debate has questioned."
After reading the decision of the supreme court in the income tax case, more than 30 years ago, La Follette asserted, "the case was decided not on constitutional grounds but upon the opinions of individual members of the court that such legislation is not sound."

"The law was declared null and void," he shouted, because a majority of the court did not believe in income taxation.

La Follette added that the supreme court during the last forty years has grown used to what he called:

New York Syndicate Offers Relief In Chicago Crisis

48 MILLION TO BE SPENT FOR TAX WARRANTS

Banker Will Submit Proposal to City Controller, Newspaper States

Chicago—(AP)—Today's Herald and Examiner said Herbert C. Heller, New York investment banker, was coming to Chicago today to purchase $48,000,000 worth of city tax anticipation warrants.

The newspaper said Heller represented a banking syndicate and that he had arranged a conference with George K. Schmidt, city controller, to submit his offer.

Heretofore, city officials have estimated they could legally borrow $27,000,000 in the 1930 levy, but the Heller syndicate is prepared to inform Schmidt that it prefers to buy $48,000,000 worth of warrants, the newspaper said.

It has been estimated that the $27,000,000 would operate the city government until July, but this would only leave the city facing another crisis. With the $48,000,000, it was pointed out that the expenses could be met until next December by which time, it is expected that the 1931 taxes will be in the treasury.

While payless employees anxiously awaited the outcome of this new hope, it was disclosed that Mayor William Hale Thompson and the citizens' relief committee were as far as ever from accord on a relief program.

STILL AT ODDS

Silas H. Strawn, chairman of the relief group, still insists that his committee can loan only enough money to pay employees of necessary departments, while Mayor Thompson refused to agree to any plan that does not include pay checks for every city employee.

In the mayor's office in the city hall, reports that Thompson had agreed to the Strawn plan were termed "pipe dreams."

Meanwhile, those adherents who favor adhesion to the Strawn plan of relief are expressing indignation that Mayor Thompson continues to ignore the council vote passed nine days ago, which instructed the city administration to cooperate with the Strawn committee.

One adherent, John J. (Bethhouse) Coughlin, who favored Mayor Thompson in his veto of the reduced wages, said "there is nothing out of the way in going to Strawn." "I earnestly want the employees to get their pay and I am in favor of selling tax warrants."

Two men fined $10 each for accosting girls.

Gus Ruckter, Woodstock, Ill., and Robert Gratz, Chicago, each were fined $10 and costs by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Thursday morning when they pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct.

The men, who are staying at an Appleton hotel were arrested on W. College-ave shortly after midnight Wednesday night when Officer Gus Hersekrow saw them accosting two girls. One of the girls screamed to attract the officer. The pair claimed they thought they knew the girls, but the girls said they had never seen the men before.

NEENAH WOMAN GETS DIVORCE FOR CRUELTY

Mrs. Anna Aiello, Neenah, was granted an absolute divorce by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Wednesday afternoon on a plea of cruel and inhuman treatment from her husband, Frank Aiello, also of Neenah. Mrs. Aiello charged her husband is quick tempered and that she could not live with him. She was given custody of two minor children and granted possession of all property which they had owned. The Aiellos were wed on Feb. 13, 1921, at New Rochelle, N. Y., and separated Feb. 11, 1930.

BARRY STARTS DUTIES AT DETENTION HOME

Professor A. G. Barry, formerly of the University extension division, left Madison early this week to take up his duties as superintendent of the Cook County Detention Home, to which position he was recently appointed. Professor Barry conducted a series of lectures here last year at the police officers school at Appleton vocational school. No successor has yet been chosen for Professor Barry.

To Wipe Out Gangs

Indignation of citizens at the reign of hoodlums in Chicago has spurred Chief of Detectives John Egan, above, Russell, below, to inaugurate a vigorous drive to rid the city of criminals. Nearly 1000 suspected thugs were arrested in the first day's raids.

One Killed, One Injured In Gun Fight

Everett, Wash.—(AP)—Al Kinsman, alleged bootlegger, is dead, and Deputy Sheriff J. W. Thomas lies seriously wounded as the result of a gun battle at Kinsman's ranch, nine miles north of Arlington, Wash., yesterday, when officers attempted to search the premises for liquor.

Armed with a search warrant, Thomas, with Sheriff George T. Stever, and Deputy Jess Jackson, went to Kinsman's isolated ranch to look for liquor. They went to the place separately. Stever going to the barn, Jackson to the chicken coop and Thomas to the front door of the house.

According to the officers, Thomas, who held the warrant, knocked on the door and told Kinsman to open it, adding that they were from the sheriff's office. The door was opened slightly and Kinsman shot Thomas twice in the abdomen, officers said.

Kinsman then ran out the back door to be met by Jackson. Instead of halting at his command, Kinsman opened fire, Jackson asserted. Jackson fired four shots at the fleeing man, three of which took effect.

An ambulance from Arlington took Thomas to the hospital and then returned for Kinsman, as the car could accommodate only one patient at a time. Kinsman died several hours after the shooting. The condition of Thomas is considered critical.

After the shooting Sheriff Stever returned to the ranch and reported finding seven pints of moonshine whiskey. William Gooch, a farm hand, surrendered when he heard of the battle but was later released when he had convinced the sheriff that he knew nothing of Kinsman's alleged liquor activities. Gooch was away cutting wood at the time of the fight, he said.

REYNOLDS QUITS NAVAL ACADEMY

Four New Candidates Are Appointed by Representative Schneider

Washington, D. C.—Due to the resignation of Tom Reynolds of Green Bay from the United States Naval Academy, Representative George J. Schneider today nominated new candidates for admission to the academy at Annapolis.

Don Squires of Pound was nominated as principal, Eugene V. Blume of Oconto as first alternate; Ronald Degraeve of 331 14th-ave, Green Bay, as second alternate and Francis Novitski of 143 North Chestnut-ave, Green Bay, as third alternate.

They will take the examinations on April 15, and the principal if successful, or one of the alternates will enter the academy July 1.

Reynolds, son of Attorney General John W. Reynolds, has been in Annapolis for a year. No reason was given for the resignation.

7 NOTORIOUS GANGMEN HELD AFTER DRIVE

Total of 2,500 Taken in Chicago Police Net During Five Days

Chicago—(AP)—Seven "big shot" gangsters, found behind the drawn shades of a room in which not long ago two others were murdered, were held to the grand jury today as gunmen.

Altogether, police took 425 prisoners yesterday, bringing their "crime drive" total for five days to more than 2,500; but the seven found in the dingy second story restaurant were regarded by police as far the most important.

In presenting them at last night's "showup" at which suspects are paraded across a small stage before the victims of recent crimes, Chief of Detectives Egan said:

"Their names would grace a penitentiary roster or a hangman's warrant. They are of the O'Connell gang."

Two of them were O'Donnell brothers, Myles and Bernard (there is a third and better known O'Donnell, called "Klondyke"). There was "Three-Fingered Jack" White, once convicted of murder; George (Red) Barker, known as a labor terrorist and once charged with murder; Mike Quirk, Edward Sirinek and Jack O'Connor.

With the seven was arrested Frank Lacey, concerning whom police have no previous information.

Five minutes after the "pinch," eight lawyers were demanding that the men be promptly booked so that bail could be arranged and the men freed. They were successful only in the case of Myles O'Donnell whom they represented as "a dying man."

During the questioning a photographer set off a flash light behind him and O'Connell fainted. When he revived he said he thought he had been shot.

O'Donnell was booked for his orderly conduct and freed under $1,500 bond.

SCENE OF TWO SLAYINGS

The room in which the arrests were made is partitioned from the cafe. It was here, police said, that two other well known west side hoodlums, William Clifford and Michael Reilly, were killed. The bodies of Clifford and Reilly were taken to the back yard of Al (Scarface) Capone's home where they were found.

Police said Clifford and Reilly's deaths were the sequel to the slaying in Cicero last year of a man named Vercoe who was shot dead in a saloon when he recited a verse entitled, "Shoot, you coward, you dare not."

The O'Donnells, blaming Clifford and Reilly for the shooting, reprimanded them, saying such unprovoked killing gave Chicago a bad reputation. When Clifford and Reilly inquired, "Well, what are you going to do about it?" police declare, they signed warrants for their own death warrants.

Barker, arrested last night, was a pal of Clifford and Reilly, and of McEligott and Cawley, who also were assassinated. Police were surprised to find him apparently in the odd graces of the O'Donnells.

No weapons were found on the persons of the seven arrested but overcoats hanging nearby yielded two weapons, one of the coats fitted Barker. In the pocket of another was found a glove in which were cork finger tips, fitting the stubs of "Three-Fingered Jack" White's hand.

Myles O'Donnell, tried and acquitted of the murder of Eddie Tancil, several years ago, and Klondyke O'Donnell were in the automobile with William H. McSwiggin when the latter, an assistant state's attorney, was assassinated, supposedly by members of the "Capone mob" to which the O'Donnells are opposed.

DRUNK, UNABLE TO PAY FINE, GOES TO JAIL

Harley Lundgren, 407 N. Bennett-st, was sent to the county jail for 10 days by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Thursday morning when he pleaded guilty of drunkenness. Lundgren was unable to pay a fine of $10. He was arrested about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the city park by Fred Arndt, motorcycle officer.

Deny Tale Of Party Held In Detroit

Detroit—(AP)—Detroit officials came forward today with their version of the party held last November for state and local officials, accounts of which figured in testimony before the house judiciary committee at Washington yesterday.

Walter Liggett, a writer who appeared before the committee, described the affair as one at which liquor was served and dancers performed for the edification of Gov. Fred W. Green, Police Commissioner William P. Rutledge, former Mayor John W. Smith, four municipal judges and other officials.

Today one of the judges who was a guest at the party said that nothing stronger than ice cream was served and that the entertainment was furnished by a boys' band of 40 pieces. Other officials, not so explicit, branded Liggett's story of the party as a "lie."

From Lansing came word that Governor Green would be glad to appear before the congressional committee should that body care to question him.

Judge Homer Ferguson of the circuit court said Liggett's story was an attempt to discredit Governor Green. He said speeches were given at the party by the governor and other officials after which the Catholic Boys' band played and a short program of songs and dances was furnished by professional performers who he said "have appeared before some of the best men and women in Detroit."

Commissioner Rutledge said: "I don't go where liquor is served or where dancers entertain. Anybody who says I do is a liar."

Oscar C. Olander, state commissioner of public, also mentioned as one of the guests, refused to comment.

Mayor Charles Bowles characterized Liggett's account of a "slush fund" raised during his campaign as "perfectly absurd, silly and entirely without any foundation in fact."

SELECT CAST FOR NEXT PRODUCTION OF SUNSET PLAYERS

Organization Will Present "The Queen's Husband" March 14

The cast for "The Queen's Husband," the second major production to be sponsored this year by Sunset Players, Lawrence college dramatic organization, was announced by F. Theodore Cloak, Lawrence dramatic coach, this morning. The play will be presented at Lawrence Memorial chapel March 14.

The cast includes 10 men and five women. Five members of the cast are Appleton students. Rehearsals will start at once under direction of Mr. Cloak.

The setting is in a mythical island kingdom in the north sea. The story centers around the affairs of the royal family. The comedy in costume portrays the influence of a blustering dictator, the flow of political events, the domination of the queen over an unassuming husband and the secret love of the princess for a commoner.

The character of the hen-pecked king is assumed by Fredric Heard, Long Lake, Minn., while his domineering spouse will be played by Margaret Bryan, Red Wing, Minn. Charles Barnes, Rockford, Ill., will play the part of Frederick Granton, secretary to the king, who, throughout the play, pursues an apparently hopeless love for the princess, played by Dorothy Howell, Milwaukee.

The character of General Northrop, the premier of the small country and the Mussolini character of the play will be taken by Don Christiansen, Amery.

Humorous incidents Throughout the course of the play the effect of socialistic influences in the monarchy will bring in several dramatic and humorous incidents. Dr. Fellman, a wild anarchist, will be played by Paul Kozelka, Chicago, and Laken, the general in command of the revolutionary troops, will be portrayed by Harold Spurka, Oshkosh.

Birten, the foreign secretary of the mythical kingdom will be played by George Beckley, 343 N. Center-st, Appleton. The understanding, amiable and observing aide to the king, Phupps, will be portrayed by Arthur Smith, 920 E. Eldorado-st, Appleton.

The character of Major Blent and officer in the royal army and loyal to the king, will be assumed by John Chinkosky, Milwaukee.

Prince William of Greece, the man Northrop has arranged to marry the princess, in order to secure a political alliance, will be portrayed by Roy McNeil, Mellen. Petley, the loyal maid of the young princess will be played by Julia Ludwig, 602 E. North-st, Appleton, and the two ladies in waiting will be taken by Nona Nemacheck, 323 W. Washington-st, Appleton, and Dorothy Davis, 506 N. Atlantic-st, Appleton. Charles Watkins, Brooklyn, New York, will take the part of a soldier.

IMPRISON MAN WHO STOLE GEESE FROM DESTITUTE FAMILY

Shawano—Emil Petrich has begun a sentence of eighteen months in the state prison of Waupun and as a result Fred Leicher of Morgan's Siding, near here, is $100 richer.

As a further result, the countryside is one more becoming normal after having been aroused over the activities of Shawano's "meanest thief." The John Samp family, consisting of seven children, living in a small cabin near Morgan's Siding was being aided by neighbors while the father was unable to work for the last three months.

A short time ago the sole pair of geese which the family owned was stolen in the night and neighbors grew wroth. O. E. Morgan, prominent lumberman, offered a $100 reward for the arrest. Leicher got the reward. Sentence was pronounced by County Judge F. A. Jaackel.

ELECT DAME HEAD OF NEW COMMITTEE OF SHOE FITTERS

Group Will Organize National Association of Foot Correction

Chicago—George C. Dame of Appleton today was elected chairman of a committee to effect a permanent organization of shoe men interested in proper shoe fitting and foot correction at the closing session of a three-day conference attended by shoe men from every part of the country. The new organization seeks to establish standards by which men will be guided in fitting shoes and giving foot relief.

Mr. Dame said that such an association has been badly needed for many years, as the number of people whose feet have been seriously injured by improperly fitted shoes has assumed alarming proportions.

Mr. Dame and the other men who are instrumental in forming this new organization feel that there is no need to be untruthful to customers regarding the size of shoe they need or the style which they should wear. They have found that an intelligent explanation together with properly fitted shoes is always successful in combating the well known tendency of most people towards foolish ways as regards the size of shoe they wear.

Other officers chosen by the new organization which will have a charter membership of about 300 shoe men in all parts of the country are: Vice chairman, Lewis E. Walker, Waterloo, Ia., secretary, C. F. Propon, Chicago, Ill.

U.S. Missionary Yields To Chinese Tribunal For Trial

Shanghai—(AP)—Authorities here today learned of a case involving an American missionary in a fatal automobile accident in Tungchow, Kiangsu province, which may have a bearing on China's recent determination to abolish extra-territoriality.

It was learned that A. H. Smith, a missionary of the Christian Reformed church, which has American headquarters at Grand Rapids, Mich., had surrendered himself to a Chinese court at Tungchow for trial as a result of the death of a Chinese boy in an automobile accident.

Smith, according to information received by missionaries here, was driving the motor car which accidentally struck the young Chinese. The accident occurred Jan. 29.

American consular authorities at Nanking sent a destroyer from Nanking to Tungchow Tuesday hearing a consular official who investigated the affair and sent his findings to the American legation in Peking.

It is understood Smith was released pending trial, the date for which is unknown here. The attitude of American officials toward the case also is not known.

The Smith case seems to parallel that of a British naval officer named McBride, whose automobile struck and killed a Chinese boy at Hankow Jan. 24. Pursuant to the Nationalist government's decree of Dec. 23, 1929, declaring the abolition of extrajurisdiction, Chinese officials claimed the right to try McBride in a native court. The case now is the subject of diplomatic discussions between the Nanking foreign office and the British minister to China.

Under the extra-territorial system the principal powers maintain their own courts in China and try their own nationals instead of permitting the Chinese courts to function. The nationalist government seeks to abolish this system and restore full jurisdiction to native courts.

TWO MORE DEPUTIES APPOINTED BY LAPPEN Appointments of two more deputy sheriffs were filed Thursday morning by Sheriff John Lappen. The new deputies are Louis C. Wassman, and Mike Wagner, Appleton.

Twelve Years Mayor and Going Strong!

WHEN a man who has been mayor of a big city for twelve years finds out how to live, his words are worth listening to. Ex-Mayor E. N. Kirby of Abilene, Texas, discovered the simple way to health about ten years ago (he is now 64).

"I am now a new man, and as active as a boy," says Mr. Kirby. "I feel fine all the time and rarely have an ache or a pain, although for twenty-five years I suffered with rheumatism, and sometimes was unable to stand or walk. I would not give up my simple health discovery—no, not for five thousand dollars in gold!" That discovery was Nujol!

That's the wonderful thing about Nujol. Although it is not a medicine and contains absolutely no drugs, its harmless internal lubrication seems to make people feel better and look up the brighter side of life, whether they are old or young.

Of course you can understand why this is so: we all of us have natural poisons in our bodies that make us feel headachy, sick and low in our minds. Nujol, which is as tasteless and colorless as pure water, helps to absorb these and carry them away, easily, regularly as clock work.

Instead of drugging and irritating your body with pills, cathartics, laxatives, and other habit-forming drugs, give your body the internal lubrication which it needs, just as much as any other machine. After a few days you will be surprised at the difference in the way you feel. You can get Nujol in a sealed package in any drug store. Nujol may change your whole outlook on life. Get a bottle today and give yourself a chance to be well!

FEWER CARS BOUGHT HERE LAST MONTH COMPARED TO 1929

Decrease Is Noticed Throughout State, Sec- retary's Report Shows

Two more automobiles were purchased by Appleton residents in January, 1929, than in January, 1930, according to a report from the secretary of state. The report shows 43 cars were purchased here last month as compared with 50 in the same month last year. The report shows a decrease in the number of new passenger cars registered from Appleton with an increase in the number of commercial cars.

In January, 1929, there were eight commercial and 42 passenger cars registered in Appleton as compared with 13 commercial cars and 35 passenger cars registered last month.

The report shows there were two more cars registered from Outagamie county, however, last month as compared with January, 1929. Last month there were 97 new cars registered in the county as against 93 for January, 1929.

Eighty-four of the new cars in the county last month were passenger machines and 13 were commercial cars. In January, 1929, there were 51 passenger cars sold on the county and 14 commercial cars.

The report for the entire state shows a big drop in the number of new passenger cars registered but a larger increase in the number of new commercial cars which brings the total registration for the state in January 29, above the total registration for January, 1929.

There was 5,362 new cars registered in the state last month, of which 587 were commercial cars and 4,415 passenger cars. In January, 1929, there were 5,263 new cars registered of which 4,496 were passenger cars and 767 commercial cars.

Following is a report showing a number of cities in the state with the first figure the total registration for January, 1929, and the second for January, 1930.

Appleton, 50, 48; Fond du Lac, 53, 64; Green Bay, 128, 87; Manitowish, 55, 48; Marinette, 15, 18; Menasha, 13, 18; Neenah, 21, 20; Oshkosh, 66, 60; Sheboygan, 55, 68.

PICKLE TEST NOT ADVISED FOR MUMPS

Call Doctor if There Is Any Indication of Swelling, People Warned

Don't rely on the old-time trick of swallowing a pickle to determine the existence of mumps warns the school nurses. If there is any indication of swelling in the glands a doctor should be called so he can diagnose the case while the swelling is still apparent.

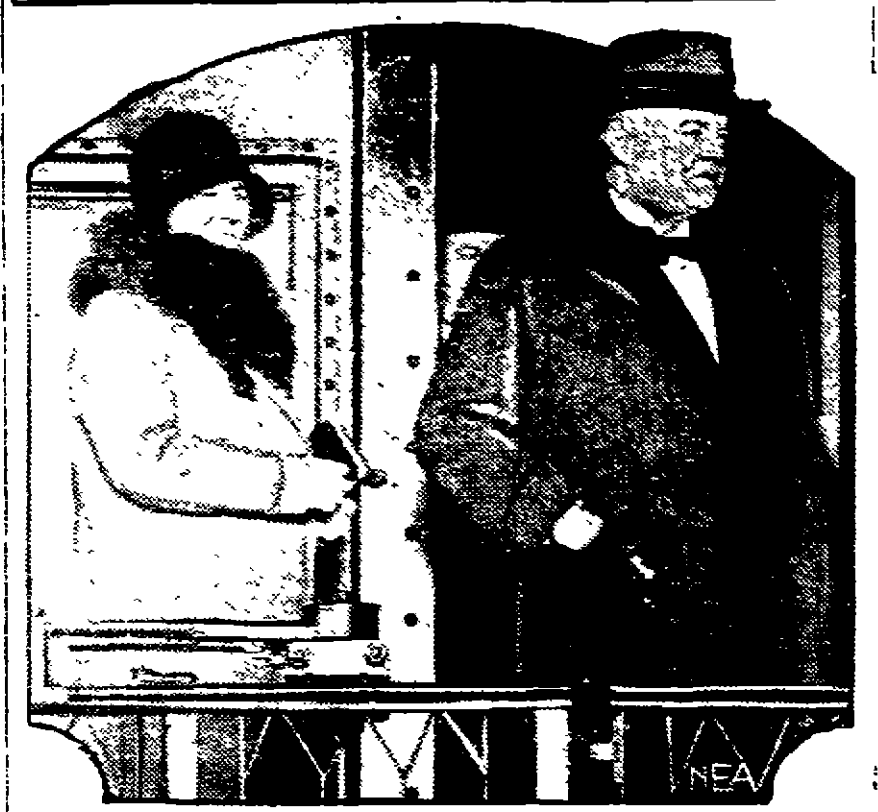

There are a number of cases of mumps in the schools, but they are confined for the most part to three schools in one ward. To keep the disease from spreading the nurses need the cooperation of the parents in reporting the presence of mumps, and in keeping their children at home if they have been excluded from school.

Because so many persons are wont to consider swollen glands nothing but swollen glands, the swelling period of the disease is often past before a proper diagnosis has been made. Once the swelling has disappeared children return to school thereby endangering the health of their schoolmates.

The incubation period for mumps is from two to three weeks and the isolation period is at least two weeks and a week after the swelling has disappeared.

NEW WASHINGTON BOOK IS RECEIVED

"The Saviour of the States" Available at Appleton Li- brary

The third of Rupert Hughes' volumes on George Washington, "The Saviour of the States" is now available at Appleton public library. In this book, which covers the period from 1777 to 1783, the author continues his story and brings it to a triumphant climax. His study of the war for independence is a sensation. It reveals a study and his character, his march on the British, his human nature, his love of his people, his other qualities, his wisdom, his selfless devotion to his country.

Another new book is the Life of Victor Hugo by Richard Macdonald. It is a biography of the great French writer, with a special emphasis on his literary career. The book is a study of his life, his work, and his influence on the world. It is a masterpiece of biography, and a must-read for anyone interested in literature.

A new recent addition is "Adventures in America," a study of contemporary life in America by E. B. Clegg. It is a collection of stories and sketches of life in America, from the West to the East. It is a masterpiece of contemporary literature, and a must-read for anyone interested in America.

Jansen Resigns From County Highway Committee

SCORES BODY FOR CUTTING WORKERS' PAY

Board Accepts Resignation of Little Chute Supervisor by 22-19 Vote

The county board this morning accepted the resignation of Supervisor Anton Jansen, Little Chute, as a member of the highway committee, reconsidered its action in killing a proposal to have the chairman appoint a committee to investigate the need of a county poor home and hospital, and voted to retain the office of register of deeds on a fee basis.

The board extended A. G. Koch, the register, a vote of appreciation for the years of efficient service he has given the county.

Mr. Jansen's resignation was accepted by a vote of 22 to 19 after he explained he felt that he could not act with a highway committee which would vote to cut the wages of its employees.

The committee took this action in cutting the wages of men, many of whom have given years of service to the county.

Mr. Jansen told the county board that if it refused to accept his nomination he would continue to act on the highway committee and would construe the vote as one of confidence.

LANY SUPPORT JANSSEN
When the supervisor from Little Chute explained why he was resigning, a number of supervisors rallied to his side. But the supervisors did point out they felt Mr. Jansen was making a mistake in resigning and said that he could not expect that the entire committee would always agree with his views.

Supervisors T. H. Ryan, Appleton, and John Nies, Kaukauna, object to the cutting wages. They said they felt it would be setting a poor precedent if the county took the leadership in a movement of this kind.

Arnold Krueger, supervisor from Maple Creek, and chairman of the highway committee, explained the wage cuts.

Under the new scale, which goes into effect April 1, common laborers and truck drivers will receive 40 and 45 cents an hour, respectively, which is no cut. Tractor drivers and grader operators will receive 60 cents an hour, no cut. Four grade foremen will receive $6 per day, straight time. Previously two of these men received 60 cents per hour and two 75 cents per hour. The patrol superintendent, who formerly received 75 cents per hour, will now receive $15 per month, straight time.

The garage superintendent will receive 70 cents per hour, with his salary not to exceed $7 per day, straight time. He previously received 80 cents per hour. Garage help will receive $5 per day, straight time, as compared with a rate of 50, 55 and 60 cents an hour now in effect.

WON'T FURNISH GAS
In addition the county will no longer furnish oil and gas for the cars of any of the employees except that of the patrol superintendent, who also will be furnished with a car. Under the present plan oil and gas is furnished for all the employees except the common laborers.

Mr. Krueger said the wage scale was adopted by the committee only after the most careful investigation and consideration and that it felt the new scale is fair to all.

The supervisor from Little Chute contended that if the committee found the services of any men were unsatisfactory they should be discharged, but that the committee should not cut wages and force men to quit.

Mr. Krueger explained that from Nov. 1, 1928 to Nov. 1, 1929, Mr. Hale drew $2,520 and Mr. Riese, $2,730. He said this wage was very nearly equal to what the highway commissioner receives and is entirely out of proportion. He pointed out that in February, 1929, Mr. Riese had put in 453 hours and Mr. Hale 452 hours in 24 working days and said this was entirely too much overtime.

The vacancy caused by Mr. Jansen's resignation will be filled by appointment to be made by Mike Mack, chairman of the county board. The following supervisors voted to accept Mr. Jansen's resignation:

HERE IS VOTE
Bergsaken, Blohm, Bushy, J. Dierck, Draphal, Isler, Farrell, Fuert, Garvey, Graemeier, Huth, Jarvis, Jansen, Knapsen, Krueger, O'Connor, Mueller, Junge, Ruppel, Smith, Rasmussen and Wickeberg.

Following a short address by County Clerk Fred T. Henneman (the following supervisors voted to accept Mr. Jansen's resignation):

Judge Heinemann was asked by Mr. Jansen to tell the board whether he felt there is a need for a county poor home and the judge answered that there appears to be a very urgent need because of the many crippled and disabled old people who have no place to stay. He pointed out that giving these persons an old age pension would not solve the problem because they couldn't care for themselves. Often it is difficult

Dr. Earl L. Baker, supervisor of public school music, will direct 60 members of the Boys and Children's choruses in a concert at the Methodist vespers service Sunday afternoon.

FRANK SPEAKS AT 18TH MEETING OF BUILDERS

Glen Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin was the principal speaker at the Thursday afternoon session of the eighteenth annual convention of Wisconsin association of Master Builders at Madison.

The convention which opened Wednesday will continue until Friday evening. John Hegner and John Leonard of the local organization are attending the conference.

Governor Walter Kohler gave the address of welcome at the opening session, Wednesday afternoon. Other speakers on the program included Mayor A. G. Schmiedemann, L. V. Burch, association president; J. L. Bled, president of the Madison group; Joseph Tyrell and H. L. Gieseler.

At the Friday session, the Madison association will entertain builders and their wives at a banquet Thursday evening, and sponsor sight seeing tours, visits to the forest products laboratory and a theatre party on Friday.

ORGANIZE WOODWORK CLASS AT Y. M. C. A.

Twelve boys attended the first meeting of the newly organized wood-working class of the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening. Although the class was started for younger boys, unusual interest also is being shown by older boys who will be permitted to join.

The boys will carve boats as their first project. The class is conducted by Ed Gerhartz of the "Y" staff.

to find a place for them to stay, he pointed out.

MAY ABANDON HOME
Mr. Jansen also told the supervisors that the poor committee of the Appleton common council had served notice on the county that it was considering abandoning the city poor home and that the county should make some provision to care of the county charges now housed there.

Mr. Jansen pointed out that there are between 10 and 14 county charges at the institution, and that the county is faced with a serious problem in the matter of finding a place to care for these folks.

The county judge told the supervisors that if Appleton had not so kindly agreed to care for the county charges that the county would have faced the problem some time ago.

The judge was given permission to accept an investigation to appear before a congressional committee at Washington, D. C., on Thursday, Feb. 20, to tell the committee about the county's experience with the old age pension law. The judge said Outagamie-co is foremost in the United States in this field and he pointed out that the administration of the old age law in the county has been so successful since its establishment four years ago that advocates of the plan refer to Outagamie-co as a model.

On resolution of the finance committee the board decided not to accept the offer of A. G. Koch, register of deeds, to do his work on a salary basis instead of a fee basis, as at present.

COMMENTS KOCH
The committee said, in its report, it had found that Mr. Koch was during his term of office served the county efficiently, honestly, satisfactorily and economically and that it feels he should be permitted to maintain the office in its present manner. The report said further that the board had no objection to Mr. Koch's continuing to do his work on a salary basis.

Under the terms of this resolution Mr. Koch will be supplied by the county with stamps, stationery, lights, records and all other office supplies. This decision, the committee said was based on the opinion from the district attorney who ruled that under the law the county is forced to furnish these supplies to the register.

At the November session of the county board the supervisors adopted a resolution instructing the clerk to clerk not to furnish office supplies except to those county officials which the law said must be furnished.

By a unanimous vote and without discussion, the county board adopted a resolution condemning chain banking and calling on the county's representatives in the legislature to work to curb the practice.

The supervisors also voted 35 to 4 to raise the salary of the deputy county clerk from $1,800 to $2,000 per year; and the stenographer in the office of the county agent from $1,100 to $1,200 per year. Both raises are to be in effect from Jan. 1, 1930.

The board adjourned sine die. The new board, to be elected early in April, will hold its organization meeting early that month.

STATE'S TIMBER CROP TO VANISH WITHIN FEW YEARS

Chilton Judge Tells Kiwanis Reforestation Must Start Immediately

There are two million acres of timber left in Wisconsin on scattered tracts, and it amounts to only 12 billion board feet, Judge H. A. Arps, of Chilton, told Appleton Kiwanians Wednesday at their regular weekly meeting, as he discussed the economic reason reforestation must be started in this state if we are to have any merchantable timber left at the end of another ten years.

Citing numerous figures to prove his points, Judge Arps said the present supply of timber is all that is left of the 29 million acres of forest lands in the state when Wisconsin was admitted to the union, a tract that at that time amounted to 135 billion feet of pine, and 20 billion feet of hardwood.

With two million acres of forest lands left, and 10 billion board feet of lumber, it is being cut at the rate of one billion feet a year and will last only 10 years at the present rate.

Although admitting he was a man who enjoyed fishing and hunting, Judge Arps asked that Kiwanians cease preaching the gospel of conservation of fish and game for the present. Artificial reforestation was his suggestion for saving the timber lands in Wisconsin, artificial reforestation on a much larger scale than now practiced, a scale, as he pointed out, that now is less than one forty-fifth of that of Wisconsin's neighboring states. Only 5,500 acres were planted with young trees last year he stated, as compared to 45 times that many acres in Minnesota.

Even our countries have practiced reforestation for several years, according to Judge Arps, and municipal forests are common. That the practice is highly successful is brought out by the fact some municipalities are paying the expense of government by the proceeds of sale of timber.

Cutting of timber in the 17 northern counties of Wisconsin is bringing absolutely nothing, Judge Arps pointed out. Wisconsin now has enough if not too many farms so there is no need to clear the land for further agricultural purposes. Land which has been cut over also has been neglected to the point where trees will not grow again because the tracts have, in the past, been burned over and all vegetation killed. Even were the land all to be cleared at the rate of clearing in the last 50 years, it would take 800 years to make all the state land useful for agricultural pursuits.

Financially the state is realizing nothing from cut over and burned over lands because lumber companies and others have permitted the tracts to go delinquent of taxes and become county property. Marinette, Judge Arps pointed out, is the greatest property holder in Marinette-co because of the delinquent tax situation.

A few years ago, lumbering paid one-fourth the wages of northern county laborers, paid one-fourth the taxes, was one-fourth the business revenue and lumbering becomes expensive of banks, and industry is to carry this burden, the judge asked.

It often has been said that new industries will take the place of lumbering, Judge Arps commented. But he asked, why not have lumbering along with the industries that now exist in the state and with those that may come later. New products are being made as by-products of lumbering and the state soon will have both.

The speaker also mentioned the tourists business and lumbering. Mentioning the money the state realizes each year from tourists, the judge pointed out that tourists come to Wisconsin where they can travel through our forests, breathe pure air and rest in the shade of huge trees, parts of great forest tracts. Take these away, he said, and the tourist business goes with them.

"Talk, think and preach the gospel of reforestation," the judge said in closing his talk, "forget about fish and game conservation for a time until definite action is taken to replenish the state's fast vanishing timber supply."

STAMP CLUB MEMBERS WILL MEET TONIGHT

Members of the stamp club of the Y. M. C. A. will meet at 7:15 Thursday evening at the boys department and leave in a group for the home of W. O. Thiede where they will be guests of Mr. Thiede. They will hear a talk by Mr. Thiede on how to collect stamps and will be permitted to see several of his stamp collections. Any members of the department interested in stamp collections may accompany the group.

ORGANIZE ADVISORY COMMITTEE FOR ARMY

Thirteen Appleton citizens met with Salvation Army officials at Conway hall Thursday night to organize a local advisory committee for the Salvation Army. Plans for the development of the local branch were made.

TWO BOYS INDUCTED INTO HI-Y CLUBS

Two more members were inducted into Elmer Root's class of Hi-Y boys Wednesday evening at a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. The new boys are to be in effect from Jan. 1, 1930.

The board adjourned sine die. The new board, to be elected early in April, will hold its organization meeting early that month.

Confirmation Of Hughes Enters Doubtful Stage

entered the field of judicial legislation" and has "defeated the popular will as expressed in legislation enacted by congress."

By its right of passing upon nominations, the senate, LaFollette said, is "killing the jury box which is the only check upon the executive branch of government and the rights of the masses of this country."

Those who were busy checking the situation early today agreed there was beginning to be doubt on the outcome with decision depending on the final attitude of the Democrats.

Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, who opened the attack on Hughes on Monday, said today "it will be confirmed" but he smiled broadly when asked by how many votes.

Senator Glass was of the opinion that the result was in doubt. All senators in the doubtful class were the center of attention on the floor and in the cloak rooms as leaders anxiously sought to determine the battle lines today.

LEADERS SURPRISED
Leaders of all factions were obviously surprised by the turn of events in the senate. On Monday when the judiciary committee reported the nomination favorably by a vote of 10 to 2 no fight was expected.

Democrats of the judiciary committee led by Senator Walsh of Montana, the acting Democratic leader, all voted for a favorable report.

Senator Norris and Borah, leaders of the western Republican Independents, opened the attack against Hughes on the ground that his views on economics were prejudiced in favor of "big business" and "exalted property rights above the rights of the people."

Senator Glass joined in the attack and the discussion has been under way since.

Chairman Caraway asked if Hughes had not received $65,000 for drawing up the contract but the witness said he did not know.

CRITICISM BY GLASS
Senator Glass made the observation that the "supreme court in recent years has gone far afield from its original functions and constituted itself a court on economic and social questions rather than a court for the interpretation of legal disputes."

Senator Hughes declared the selection of Mr. Hughes "unfortunate" and asserted he "lacks the qualifications of a chief justice on the court of last resort which are of double importance today with a challenge being thrown in the face of the government by those seeking special favors."

Senate leaders today were busily moving about the floor checking on developments overnight. Republican leaders are still confident of the confirmation of Mr. Hughes but there were no estimates on what the vote would be.

There was considerable private discussion on the floor on the attitude of Mr. Hughes toward the senate fight against him. While rumors circulated that he would withdraw no one had any definite word from him and his friends scouted the idea.

JAPANESE SILENT ON RATIO DEMANDS

reduce the maximum calibre of guns to 14 inches.

The statement, which had been eagerly awaited in view of the British and American announcements of naval aims, said that Japan also was ready to agree to the prolongation of the life of battleships from 20 years to 26 years.

The maximum tonnage of 6-inch gun cruisers should be from 7,000 to 7,500 tons, and that of flotilla leaders and destroyers should be equally limited, the statement said.

The age limit of cruisers was suggested at 20 years and that of destroyers at 16 years.

Japan will cooperate with the other powers in strictly regulating the employment of submarines against merchant marine, the statement said.

Japan proposed to limit its submarine tonnage to its present force. The dimensions of submarines should be limited and the age limit should be fixed at 13 years.

Another suggestion was that the limitations of the Washington treaty with regard to airplane carriers should be extended to vessels of this class of less than 10,000 tons.

The memorandum further suggested that the age limit of airplane carriers of more than 10,000 tons should be prolonged to 26 years but should be fixed at 20 years for other types.

With regard to vessels of special classes Japan said it felt that she must have a force proportional to that of other powers but that she was willing to reduce it proportionally as the forces of other powers were reduced.

ITALY NOW SILENT
London (AP)—Hope that Italy might make a statement of definite naval tonnage figures desired at the London conference faded today when it was said at the headquarters of the Italian delegation that Italy's position was so well known that such a statement at this time would be superfluous.

That position, it is said, is willing to reduce her tonnage even to 10,000 tons, if the other continental naval powers bind themselves to that low figure.

The Italians hold that Italy's tonnage must equal globally that of the continental power. Today that means her tonnage must equal that of France; tomorrow it may mean Soviet Russia, Germany, or any other power with naval ambitions.

The tentative figure of 725,000 tons that has been the basis for speculation as to the French tonnage demands will certainly be considered by Italy as too high, well-informed Italian circles say, but they consider it a logical deduction.

Grandly, the Italian circles say, must be the same figure when actual numbers are written in the new blank spaces of the combined Franco-British compromise proposal for allocation of warships.

It was learned today that Italy's plea for her drastic reductions in capital ships would come before the conference again when the American motion for the abolition of submarines was discussed.

BOY SCOUT HEADS TO MEET AT HORTONVILLE

M. G. Clark, valley scout executive and several members of the valley council will attend a troop organization meeting at Hortonville at 7:30 Thursday evening. ## High School Papers Give New Facts About History

If anyone is really anxious to learn entirely new and original facts about the fascinating subject of history the quickest way is not to take a course in ancient, medieval or modern history but simply to read test papers written by high school students. That is absolutely the latest, authorized method to learn astonishing things about history. Ask the teachers. They can tell of the hopeless times they have spent looking over some of the most original papers.

Take for example the statement, the Civil War was ended by the surrender of ——. Most people (especially the staid matter-of-fact type) would probably fill in the blanks with the words "Lee" and "Appomattox." But so the quick-witted, imaginative pupils. A glance at any of their examination papers will reveal the hitherto unknown and unpublished information that Ulysses S. Grant, whom everybody thought had won the war had in reality surrendered to Lee! (Remember, all this information is coming direct from high school students. There are lots of little fifth and sixth graders who will assert that Grant won the war, but the older students in high school say that Lee won the war, and they certainly must know.)

Also unusual methods of spelling "Appomattox" are discovered. One paper has "Apitempe" and another answer looks dangerously like "abdomen." A number of pupils had the naive idea that Lee and Grant were both Northern generals. Others original people write that the tariff question caused the Civil War, after having discussed slavery day after day until they should have been able to give the whole history of the slave question in their sleep.

So, can those people who want to learn the novel things in history understand why they are advised to study high school test papers?

EDISON'S ATTEND FAIR IN FLORIDA WITH FIRESTONES

Fort Myers, Fla.—(AP)—The Edison and the Firestones went to the Lee County fair last night.

The inventor had "great fun" carrying a huge stuffed yellow rabbit which his wife won at one of the booths.

Both Mr. Edison and his cronies, Harvey Firestone, staked 55 cents each at a booth but were unsuccessful. They played number 11 each time.

"Let's go, I'm broke," the aged inventor said to Mr. Firestone.

Mrs. Edison and Mrs. Firestone fared better. Mrs. Firestone matching the rabbit won by the inventor's wife with a baby doll. Mr. Edison selected the yellow colored rabbit for his wife from a variety of trinkets offered.

Trick rides caught the eyes of both Mr. Edison and Mrs. Firestone, but the inventor was most pleased with a diving dog. The pup shook hands with the electrical wizard to win the remark:

"That's the smartest dog I ever saw."

A few minutes later when Mrs. Firestone insisted on having her fortune told, Mr. Edison chuckled and remarked: "You can't beat the women. They always want to find out about the future."

Leaving the grounds, almost reluctantly, he smiled at a questioner. "These fairs are great fun. We'll be back again tomorrow."

CLAIMS WIRKULA WAS STOPPING WHEN SLAIN

Duluth (AP)—Taking the stand as the state's principal witness, Mrs. Gust Henry Wirkula testified that her husband was bringing his automobile to a halt when he was instantly killed by shots fired by Ernest J. White, United States customs patrolman, in the trial of White on a charge of second degree murder in federal court here today.

No resistance to search was offered by her husband, she said, asserting that she believed he fully intended to halt in answer to a clerk's signal which said "Stop." U. S. Office shortly before midnight last June 8, 23 miles south of the Canadian border near Little Fork, Minn.

DEATHS

MRS. RALPH HANSEN
Mrs. Ralph Hansen, formerly Miss Gladys Rosera, died Wednesday morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rosera, Lena, after an illness of several months. Survivors are her husband and two children, Joanne, 4, and James, 8 months. The funeral will be held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at the Catholic church at Lena. Burial will be at Lena. Mrs. Hansen was a former resident of Appleton.

GERVAINE A. GRIESBACH
Gervaine Anton Griesbach, 4, died Thursday morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Griesbach, Mackville. She had submitted to an operation for appendicitis. She is survived by her parents; three sisters, Catherine, Frances, and Margaret; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Griesbach, Mackville; her grandfather, Peter Sanderson, Little Chute. The body was taken from the Wichman Funeral home to the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Griesbach, Mackville, Thursday afternoon. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning from St. Edward church with the Rev. George Schlemmer officiating. Burial will be in the Mackville cemetery.

NEW YORK SOCIETY REALLY BECOMING ANGELICIZED NOW

Cocktail Pump Appearing There Is Traced to Bahama Islands

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
New York—(CPA)—Trailing to its origin the cocktail pump which is now appearing in New York drawing rooms, one discovers a new international disarmament conference which may promote overseas amity to an extent equal to the somewhat less exciting gathering now being held in London.
New York society is rapidly becoming angelized and some of its insiders, possibly traitorous to their insular tradition, are talking about it. The cocktail pumps come from the Bahamas, annual rendezvous of the British and American high society, and with them come British slang, new reserves and decorum, a sincere desire to duck the rotogravures, new capacities in holding liquor, and the jolly "what ho" attitude which goes with synthetic British culture.
The new cocktail pump, a British invention, looks like a huge, distorted glass test tube, with a mahogany plunger. It is also useful for making rum swizzles, the plunger replacing the primitive swizzle stick, affectionately remembered by all old tropical tramps. Three-dagger rum works best in this engine and just where it comes from is nobody's business.
BAHAMAS DRAW SELECT
The select crowd which winters in the Bahamas is not much given to the undignified devices by which honor is struggled through the customs, as there are other ways of getting it. However one returning matron told of a quaint joke which she played on the customs men. Bringing back an infant from the Bahamas, she had two white enameled bottles, with rubber tubes attached, which looked like they held milk—but they didn't.
The Bahamas are only 48 hours from New York. The old die-hard families of great Knickerbocker tradition have found the islands, not only a convenient winter playground but a desirable substitute for the more blatant charms of Miami and Palm beach. The latter are delightful winter resorts, but the prevalence of rich politicians and sporting celebrities stirs up too much publicity, say the van-thats. The real certified and half-marked aristocracy seeks the reserve and genuine exclusiveness of the Bahamas, where the custom of owning your own island is growing rapidly. A returning voyager today described the winter season at the Bahamas:
BRINGS NEW BEHAVIOR
"I believe that the new behavior in American society, marked by such episodes as the junior league campaign for punctuality, grows out of this annual meeting of American and British social workers on the Islands," he said. "This particular upper stratum of American society has reached a point where it really and actually wishes to avoid display and notoriety. Like-minded English people come down there and there is an interesting mingling of cultures, with the Americans also leaving their impress on the British. In fact a current English newspaper article complains of the 'Americanization' of British society."
"One meets many American debutantes in the Bahamas and several of them have told me that they have been entirely converted to English social behavior and that American social leaders should reshape their codes more on the English pattern. Of course the men meet at Sloppy Joe's or Dirty Dick's or at the Porcupine club and knock over a few drinks, but in mixed social intercourse, there is decorum and generally civilized behavior. Which I have rarely seen in America."
Literary and artistic celebrities are received, but they are more apt to be of the socially sophisticated types, such as Noel Coward. Parvenus, either in money or the arts, do not find the Bahamas hospitable. The dress for evening functions is the white drill money jacket, with the women managing a few exotic touches in the details of their gowns.

ENTIRE ALFORD ESTATE BEQUEATHED TO WIDOW

Kenosha—(CP)—In one of the briefest wills ever filed in Kenosha, W. H. Alford, vice president of Nash Motors, who died last week, left his whole estate to his widow, Gertrude M. Alford. The petition for probate, which was allowed, gave a preliminary estimate of the estate as: "Personal property in excess of $2,000, 000 and real estate in excess of $400, 000. The final inventory of the estate is expected to reveal a much larger total."
The will, in Alford's own handwriting, done without the aid of an attorney, was found in his personal papers at his office. It was drawn 44 years ago, while he was a resident of Detroit, and before he made the greater part of his fortune. Since it was drawn his son, Ferris H. Alford, was killed in an automobile accident, leaving Mrs. Alford as the only member of the immediate family.

The Lutz Ice Co. has completed its annual ice harvest, over 10,000 tons having been stored, according to William Jacobson, manager.
Weather conditions favored the harvest this year, and the ice is of exceptionally good quality. It is clear and averages about 25 inches in thickness. Mr. Jacobson stated: More than 15 workmen were employed by the company. Little difficulty was experienced, as scarcely any snow fell.
Last year workmen were handicapped by the heavy snow. This year the only condition which hampered their work was the extreme cold wave which prevailed here several weeks.

GEORGE ABBOTT TO RETURN TO STAGE

Popular Actor Will Appear Next Week in "Those We Love"

BY WARD MOREHOUSE
New York—(CPA)—George Abbott, who was setting to be one of the most important players of the Broadway stage when he gave up acting for playwriting and directing, is to be seen as a performer once more. New York will behold him next week in the leading role of his own play, that is, the play he wrote with S. K. Laumer. Its title is "Those We Love."
Mr. Abbott's last minute decision to enter the cast gives, of course, new importance to the venture and Broadway will turn out to welcome him at the John G. Sweeney theatre next Wednesday evening.
This Abbott is not really the kind of a "stage" actor that Broadway has seen in the past. He is a real actor, a real dramatist, and a real playwright. He began his career in the New York Theatre in that play called "Mishadventure," a comedy by F. D. Dick and L. B. Goddard, which had Lewis Stone, one of the greatest actors of the day, in the title role. Abbott's role was that of a very young man, a "boy" in the "Hall of the Heavens." "Procession" and "A Holy Terror" were his first plays.
The Shuberts will establish a $5 top for the engagement of the play.

MOTION PICTURE COMPANY ALMOST "RUINS" RANCH

And One of Its White Rats
Becomes Warlike and Kills
Other Rats

BY JESSIE HENDERSON
Copyright, 1930, by Cona. Press
Balboa, Calif.—Oscar Boche, employed on a ranch near here, has killed 38 of his companions and is in solitary confinement. Questioned by a unit of 500 American Legion men also working on the ranch, Boche remained silent as to his motive, believed to be jealousy. Six of the victims are said to have been wives of the murderer.

Oscar is but one of many unforeseen difficulties encountered by Universal in the conduct of a section of the world war, which is being waged before cameras across the ranch behind Balboa Beach.

A white rat, nearly as big as a small kitten, Oscar is employed in trench scenes because white rats were used in European trenches to detect the presence of gas in the air. Oscar and company were imported at considerable expense for purposes of verisimilitude, but the war spirit hit Oscar hard with the result that he has slain more than three dozen other bits of verisimilitude at $5 a slaying.

Nor is Oscar the only impediment to the war. Somebody tipped off the weather man that the boys were in the trenches—where they had been for a month—though they hope to get out by Christmas—and just to make it more like France the rains descended.

Lewis Milestone, director of both French and German armies, had craved plenty of mud, but not this adobe. Russell Gleason, who has an important role, got stuck beside an ambulance and a tractor had to be rushed to pull them both out.

RANCH IS DEVASTATED

After four weeks of fighting, the ranch is a startling replica of the devastated regions abroad—trenches, shell holes, barbed wire entanglements, blackened trees. To make a wartime tree you plant a sawed-off telegraph pole, insert a small charge of dynamite and press a button.

Dynamite plays an important part during attack, sending large portions of landscape into the air. These portions don't care where they land. Two went through the door of a mess tent. Also, the genuine French bayonet are sharp. One pierced the thumb of Scott Kolk, a six-foot "German" soldier. "But I'm safe after tomorrow," Kolk grinned. "I get bumped off during the afternoon, than k heaven."

All of the seven young heavies who form a leading group in the war get

Needy Families Get $5.11 Each From Charity Fund

Appleton's needy families each received $5.11 from the Appleton Welfare Council this winter, according to a report of M. H. Small, treasurer, recently made public. There were 173 families in the city considered eligible for aid.

The Welfare Council had a balance of 56 cents in its treasury in December, 1929. The Civic Council through the Goodfellow campaign raised $1,327.65 making a total on hand Feb. 6 of $1,328.21. Two thirds of the amount of $885.47 was set aside to be expended this year.

Ladies Auxiliary of Foresters took care of 103 families and received $337.19; City Relief took care of 20 families, spending $107.37; Jewish Ladies Aid took care of 21 families and spent $197.48 while the Ladies Auxiliary cared for 29 families and spent $148.43.

A balance of $442.73 was kept in the treasury for distribution in November, 1930.

Your Income Tax

Recognizing that single persons by reason of the care and support of others, are entitled to consideration the law provides that the "head of a family" shall be allowed the same personal exemption granted a married person, $3,500. The head of a family is defined by regulations relating to the income tax as "an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation."

Several factors are involved in determining whether a taxpayer is to be thus classified. In maintaining the home and providing for the dependent individual or individuals, the taxpayer's right to exercise family control must be based on some moral or legal obligation. The element of either legal or financial dependency must exist. A taxpayer who has minor children is legally liable for their support. If he supports and exercises family control over them even though they have an income of their own sufficient for their support and maintenance, he is classified as the head of a family. If he does not support them, however, but does exercise family control, the common home being maintained, he can not be classified as the head of a family.

If by reason of illness or absence on account of business the taxpayer and dependents are separated, the common home being maintained and the taxpayer furnishing the support, the exemption as head of a family is allowed. Moreover, if a taxpayer does not maintain a common home but the dependents are at school or supported with relatives, or in a boarding house, while he lives elsewhere, the exemption is still allowed. If, however, without necessity, the dependent continuously makes his home elsewhere, his benefactor is not the head of the family.

For income tax purposes, there can be only one head of a family. The exemption can not be divided.

HOW FORD METHODS CUT COST OF DISTRIBUTION

Lower profits in selling save you at least $50 to $75 in addition to the many savings in manufacturing

TWENTY-SEVEN years ago the Ford Motor Company was formed to provide reliable, economical transportation for all the people. That original purpose has never changed. The constant effort in every activity is to find ways to give you greater and greater value without extra cost—frequently at lowered cost. This applies to distribution and similar important factors, as well as manufacture.

For the Ford Motor Company believes that its full duty is not only to make a good automobile at the lowest possible price, but to see that there is no waste, extravagance, or undue profit in any transaction from the time the car leaves the factory until it is delivered to your home. It is obvious that hard-won savings in production will be of little value if they are sacrificed later through excessive selling costs.

EVERY purchaser of a motor car has the right to know how much of the money he pays is for the car itself and how much is taken up by dealer charges. If these charges are too high, one of two things must happen. Either the price of the car must be raised or the quality lowered. There is no other way. The money must come from somewhere.

In the case of the Ford, the low charges for distribution, selling, financing and accessories mean a direct saving of at least $50 to $75 to every purchaser in addition to the still greater savings made possible by economies in manufacturing. Ford charges are not marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on a used car.

The profit margin on the Ford car has always been fair to both the dealer and the public. Within the past three months, it has been possible to effect still further economies. Today, the discount or commission of the Ford dealer is the lowest of any automobile dealer. The difference, ranging from 25% to nearly 50%, comes right off the price you pay for the car.

THE business of the Ford dealer is good because he makes a small profit on a large number of sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales. He knows, too, that the extra dollar-for-dollar value of the car makes it easier to sell and more certain to give satisfactory service after purchase.

Consider also that the Ford car is delivered to the purchaser equipped with a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, an extra steel-spoke wheel, and bright, enduring Rustless Steel for many exterior metal parts, in addition to four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers and fully enclosed four-wheel brakes.

If for any reason you wish to buy certain small accessories, you will find that these, too, are sold at the usual Ford low prices. Replacement parts are also available at low prices through Ford dealers in every section of the country.

THESE are important points to remember in considering the purchase of a motor car. They show why it is possible to put so much extra quality into the new Ford and still maintain the low price. They are also the reasons why more than 35% of all cars sold today are Model A Fords.

UNITED RESEARCH DEVELOPS NEW EYE FOR TELEVISION

Report of Discovery Is Made to Federal Radio Commission

BY ROBERT MACK

Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
Washington—(CPA)—A new "eye" for television, so small it is barely perceptible, yet claimed to be infinitely superior to any existing photo electric cells, has been developed, and, according to its owners, should go a long way toward speeding up the arrival of the visual art.

This revolutionary device, which would supply the scanning medium in the transmission of images by light waves, is founded on a discarded theory, first used in television experiments. It is the Hart selenium cell, utilizing the metallic element selenium which is highly sensitive to light. It should make possible simpler and more reliable construction of television apparatus, both transmitting and receiving and improve the quality of the art in every respect.

Actually, the Hart cell amounts to a "tubeless" photo electric cell. The United Research Corporation of Long Island, a subsidiary of the Brunswick Balke Collender Co., which owns the patent rights, already using the cell successfully in talking movies, engineers of the company told the federal radio commission, by transforming light waves into sound. In television this device would permit the image of a scene to be "broadcast" to the radio transmitter in terms of electric impulses.

Two engineers of the company, Dr. Ellsworth DeWitt Cook, chief engineer, and Dr. Arthur W. Carpenter, engineer in charge of television, unfolded before the commission the details of the remarkable "eye." The company, without predicting when television will become practical, desires to experiment with the selenium cell on the air. It seeks authority to build a 5,000 watt television station on Long Island, to operate on channels set aside for such purposes in the continental short wave band.

The engineers were secretive about the make-up of the cell. They exhibited it, however. The area the actual cell covers can be expressed in thousands of inches, as contrasting to the other types, most of which resemble vacuum tubes. The cell was invented by Russell Hart, of Los Angeles, who disposed of the rights to the Vitavox company, a talking movie equipment concern. The Brunswick Company, in turn, obtained it from the latter company.

EDITOR SEEKING DATA ON REMOVAL OF SNOW
A letter seeking information on Appleton's method of removing snow from sidewalks was received Monday by Mayor A. C. Rule from the editor of the Jefferson-co Union. The editor, who favors the use of gasoline power—trucks, tractors, or automobiles—in the removal of snow, is making a survey of methods used in Wisconsin cities. The mayor's answer explained that nothing but snow shovels are used in this city.

Sketch of New $300,000 Hospital

Above is a preliminary sketch of the new hospital building, designed by Arthur Peabody, state architect of the Wisconsin Orthopedic Hospital for Children. The building for which an appropriation of $300,000 has been made will accommodate 112 beds for crippled children. It will provide 16 rooms, facing west and south, accommodating six beds each, in addition to eight smaller rooms with capacities of one to four beds. Two operating rooms will be located on the top floor and the facilities likewise will include utility, diet and general kitchens, and a small gymnasium. The central portion of the L-shaped hospital will be three-stories in height, with two wings, each two stories high. It will be erected just north of the nurses' dormitory, facing on Linden drive, and the cells will be 50 by 165 feet and 50 by 175 feet respectively in area. The building is of Italian architecture, harmonizing in design and buff brick color with the Wisconsin General Hospital and nurses' home. The roof will be of tile. Preliminary plans already have been approved by the university regents and bids probably will be taken soon in order to start an early start in construction.

LENGTH OF SKIRT IS UP TO WOMEN

They Should Be Longer Than Last Year, but Wearer Should Decide How Long

BY AILEEN LAMONT
Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
New York—(CPA)—Fashion dictators, as well as individual styles, are now telling women that skirts should be "whatever length" the wearer is taken into consideration. Evidently the only guide is the taste dictators insist is that skirts should be longer than last year. In other words, it is quite up to the women to choose their own lengths, which after the last year's over the new feminine lengths, what they did anyway.

Among the really serious dictators of the present moment are the "dictators" of the fashion world and the "dictators" of the fashion world. Some of the dictators are head fishy, others have their hands over the forehead but most of them are dropping down even faster than the face and not doing to the fashion world. These hats are not transparent, and make every one look shiner.

If Baby has COLIC

A cry in the night may be the first warning that baby has colic. No cause for alarm if Castoria is handy! This pure vegetable preparation brings quick comfort, and can never do the slightest harm. Always keep a bottle in the house. It is the safe and sensible thing when children are ailing. Whether it's the stomach, or the little bowels; colic or constipation; or diarrhea. When tiny tongues are coated, or the breath is bad. Whenever there's need of gentle regulation. Children love the taste of Castoria, and its mildness makes it suitable for the tiniest infant, and for frequent use. And a more liberal dose of Castoria is always better for growing children than some needlessly strong medicine meant only for adult use. Genuine Castoria always has Chas. H. ## COMEDY NIGHT IS OFFERED AT SCHOOL

Three Plays Are Presented by Speech Class at Auditorium

Neenah—The third annual Comedy Night presented by the high school speech class took place Wednesday evening under the direction of Miss Ruth Dieckhoff at the senior high school auditorium. This year three plays, a Japanese fantasy, a drama and a comedy, were offered. In the Japanese play entitled "Turtle Dove," the parts were taken by Beatrice Cowling, Marguerite Nielsen, Catherine Murphy, Marjorie Sande, Ruth Mott, Mary Mary and Elaine Craner.

The second play, a drama entitled "The Valiant," taxed the dramatic ability of the young actors. It was the story of a young man condemned to die in a prison. The part was admirably played by Gordon Bennett. The scene was laid in the warden's office adjoining the execution room in a prison. Those taking part in this drama were Everett Thompson, Edward Neugebauer, Joseph Beisenstein, Gordon Bennett, Ethel Hollenbeck and Norris Madison.

The last play was of a lighter vein. It was entitled "Station XXX." Roderic Rusch carried the leading part, that of a neglected boy in the household with two sisters. The story told how he schemed to get a Boy Scout camp through fake broadcasting over the radio. Others in the play were Beatrice Cowling, Edna Kollath, Marjorie Bishop, Naomi Gibson, Norris Madison, John Cummings and Frederick Olson.

Between the acts a program of music was given by the high school orchestra under direction of Oscar Hoh.

The producing staff was composed of Ruth Dieckhoff, director; Frederick Olson, business manager; Joseph Hough, stage manager; Joseph Beisenstein, assistant stage manager; Albert Fahrnerkrug and Gilbert Oberweiser, light; Ruth Mott, Marian Marty and Edna Kollath, costumes; Catherine Murphy, John Cummings and Norris Madison, properties; Stanley Larson, call boy; Lester Gravenston and Nathan Wanda, art and Gilbert Hill, make-up.

DEMOLAYS ORGANIZE TWO DARTBALL TEAMS

Neenah—Winnebago chapter Demolay Wednesday evening decided to organize two dartball teams. Lloyd Adams will be captain of one team composed of Gordon Bennett, George Becker, Joseph Beisenstein, J. Babbits, Ronald Barnes, William Burdick, Albert Foster and Robert Gilispie. Raymond Gallmeier will captain team No. 2 which will be composed of Jerome Grade, Arthur Hohn, Harold Kloczem, Edward Lyke, Fred Olson, Willard Schmidt, Lyke Timmermann and Philip Hurbois.

An invitation was received from the Kaukauna chapter asking that the twin city organization take part in conferring the initiatory and Demolay degrees March 6 on a class of candidates. The Kaukauna chapter agreed to pay the local chapter a return visit.

On the evening of Feb. 26, the majority degree will be conferred upon several members who have attained the age of 21. On the same evening an educational program will be given.

CHAMPION DARTBALL GAMES ON SCHEDULE

Neenah—Two championship dartball games will be Thursday evening. One will be at the Eagle club diamond between Whiting Memorial Baptist church and the Eagle aerie team. The other at the Menasha city hall diamond will be between Neenah and Menasha fire departments. An added attraction at the Eagle club will be the game between the Eagle club team and the Simmons Appleton team.

PLAY OFF FINALS IN SCHOOL CAGE TOURNEY

Neenah—The finals in the high school gymnasium class basketball tournament were played Wednesday evening between the teams captained by Edward Neugebauer and Ralph Stiegler, the latter winning 15 and 14. The tournament started a month ago with 10 teams in play. In the winning team were Ralph Stiegler, Melvin Smith, Donald Schalk, Howard Weinke and E. Goinow. Those on the losing team were Edward Neugebauer, Byron Bell, Tennis Kress, William Hanson, Herbert Schmidt and Floyd Thompson. The tournament was in charge of Coach Ole Jorgenson.

APPOINTMENT OF ATTORNEY HELD UP

Don't Expect Office Will Be Filled Until After Election

Neenah—With the spring election so near, no immediate appointment of a successor to fill the unexpired term of the late George Kelly, city attorney, will be made, it is indicated at the city hall. The council will elect a new attorney at its reorganization meeting in April it was pointed out. Mr. Kelly had been city attorney for about 10 years.

Only a few months ago the common council had instructed the attorney to revise the city's ordinances, and he already had started the work. This task now will fall on the shoulders of the new attorney.

NEENAH SOCIETY

Neenah—Eastern Star met Wednesday evening at Masonic temple. Following the supper, which was served at 6 o'clock, a short business session was conducted. Bridge was played and prizes were won by Mrs. Orville Steibel and Mrs. Edgar Jones.

The dancing party given Wednesday evening by the Neenah club was largely attended. The next number on the club's social calendar will be a card party on the evening of March 11. The committee in charge is composed of Mr. and Mrs. George Danke, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Aysum, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bentzen, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Brown, Jr. and Mrs. William Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Gerhardt, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sommers, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schubert, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Kuehl and Dr. and Mrs. T. D. Smith.

A group of people called at the home of Thomas Thomsen Wednesday evening to assist him to celebrate his birthday anniversary.

Danish Sisterhood will meet Thursday evening at the Brotherhood hall on W. Wisconsin-ave. Arrangements will be made for a mask ball in March.

Twin City Camp Odd Fellows have accepted an invitation from the Appleton encampment to attend a meeting Friday evening at Appleton.

SKATING RINK IS SOFT; CANCEL HOCKEY GAME

Neenah—Warm weather has ruined skating rinks in the city necessitating cancelling the hockey game Thursday afternoon between Neenah and Oshkosh high schools at the Washington school rink. Unless the city floods the rink again and cold weather sets in, the game scheduled for Saturday afternoon with Appleton high school also will have to be cancelled.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE SCHEDULED TONIGHT

Changes In Lassen Volcano Indicate It Is Still Alive

Mineral, Cal.—(P)—Lassen peak, officially listed as a dying volcano, may be just playing possum, after all.

It has been 14 years since it erupted, after nearly 200 years of comparative quiescence, but records of the Lassen Volcano observatory of the United States geological survey indicate that it is far from being dead.

For some time the peak has been under continuous observation by the observatory. During most of this period there has been an accumulation of southwest tilt which is interpreted as meaning a swelling of the Lassen edifice, declares a government observer.

R. H. Finch, associate volcanologist of the geological survey, who has watched at the crater of the volcano as zealously as a nurse at the bedside of a patient, concludes that "the one requirement for such a swelling of the mountain is an increase of internal pressure." Also, that "if the pressure increases enough some form of eruption will follow."

The record of the swellings, in Finch's opinion, "is too short to warrant a forecast of future activity, but they do indicate that Lassen peak still must be called an active volcano. It should be remembered also that steam continually is escaping from many vents in the craters at the summit of the peak."

During his time of sentry duty in the area in 1927, Finch counted more than 260 earthquakes, there being 145 in March alone. This summer the quakes were increasingly frequent, the number in July being the greatest for any summer month since the establishment of the observatory.

"The occasional 'swarms' of earthquakes recorded on the seismographs, the instruments which also measure tilt, indicate a restlessness of the mountain," he declares.

Except for the explosive eruptions of 1914 and 1915, when there were two small lava flows, the last outpouring was 10 miles from Lassen peak, at Cinder cone, in 1850 '51. The volcanic activity which resulted in the upbuilding of Lassen peak, now 10,460 feet high, is believed to have been begun near the close of the eocene period.

WISCONSIN FARM GROUPS DEMAND TARIFF SUPPORT

Otherwise Don't Pass Tariff Bill at All, They Advise Senate

BY RUBY A. BLACK
Post-Crescent Washington Correspondent

Washington—Wisconsin farm organizations joined scores of other agricultural groups today in demanding that the Senate give them the tariff duties they asked or refuse to pass a tariff bill at all.

The complaint of the farm organizations is based on the duties voted by the Senate on casein, hides, fats and oils, blackstrap molasses, and sugar. Wisconsin is particularly interested in the duty on casein and only slightly less interested in the duties on fats and oils, as imported fats and oils come into competition with butterfat. Sugar is also produced in Wisconsin.

The casein duty approved by the Senate is 5 cents, the House of Representatives voting only 3.12 cents, and the product now being on the free list. The farm organizations asked an 8-cent duty.

There is a feeling among some of the "conservative" Republicans that it would be unwise to open up the casein question again. They say that southern democrats voted for the duty only to "go along" with the coalition, and since the southerners lost their fight for a duty on hides, they may not be willing to "go along" again.

Senator John J. Blaine of Bosconobel, who favored the 5-cent duty, insists that an 8-cent duty would destroy the industry and wreck the market for casein, since such a high duty, in his opinion, would cause paper manufacturers to use substitutes for casein.

Both he and Senator Robert M. La Follette Jr., expressed satisfaction with the 5-cent duty when the Senate adopted it.

STATE FARM WORKER TO SPEAK AT FAIR

P. E. McNell, agricultural economist with the state college of agriculture, has accepted an invitation to be a speaker at the mid-winter fair at Kaukauna on Friday, Feb. 23, according to Gus Sell, county agent, who extended the invitation. Mr. Sell said Mr. McNell would discuss the Farm Outlook, with special emphasis on the dairy business. Mr. Sell also is trying to secure several more speakers.

Meeting Is Swamped With Enthusiastic Letters Approving Washington Trip

If advance reports can be taken as an indication, the proposal of A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, to take the 1930 graduates of county rural schools to Washington, D. C., for commencement exercises next June is meeting a favorable response.

A letter announcing the plan was sent out by Mr. Meating last week. He pointed out that definite and final arrangements would not be completed until he learned how the pupils, parents and teachers would respond to the idea.

Saturday and Monday his office was swamped with a deluge of letters. Every person making a reply was unanimous in endorsing the plan and offering his or her cooperation.

Ernest Frostad, superintendent of public schools at Seymour, said:

"We have received with enthusiasm your first announcement of the trip to Washington, D. C., for the spring graduates. For our local school I will say that you can count on almost 100 per cent. If there is anything I can do before or on the trip itself to help make the project a success, I will be at your service. You are to be commended on undertaking such a wonderful project."

DICK LIKES IDEA
From George S. Dick, Madison, state superintendent of rural schools, comes the comment that Mr. Meating, as usual, again institutes another original and progressive idea for rural school instruction. Mr. Dick says that the plan is commendable and he offers his assistance to help put the idea across.

Every graduate of the Medina schools is planning to make the trip to Washington, according to a group of letters received by Mr. Meating. Each of the students wrote a letter to Mr. Meating expressing his enthusiasm over the plan and telling him that they could be counted on to make the trip. Most of these students plan to earn the money to pay their way.

The entire graduating class of 12 students of the Nichols school will make the trip to Washington, a letter from that school indicates. Mr. Meating said the entire village is undertaking, as a community project, to raise the money to send the graduating class on the trip.

Every teacher and 11 graduates of the Combined Locks school are planning to go, word from that school Monday morning indicated.

A letter from Kenneth H. Corbett, secretary of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, said:

CHAMBER SUPPORTS MOVE
"The board of directors of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce have directed me to commend you on your initiative and foresight in arranging the tour to Washington, D. C., for the graduates of the rural schools."

"It is their feeling that the opportunity you are placing before the young people of our county will do much to advance the general knowledge and education of those that are in a position to make the trip. The trip about the capital. The trip will plan is surely very meritorious and take four days.

should meet the warm support of the parents and citizens of Outagamie county.

"It is the sincere hope of the governing body of this organization that you will meet with success in perfecting all the details to make this proposed trip possible and successful."

And these are but a few of the comments. Scores of other letters from parents, teachers and students are in the same tone and Mr. Meating said that definite plans for the trip probably will be made "now that the trip is assured."

Under the plan a special train will take the group to Washington two about $25 a person. This cost will cover fare, meals, one night in a hotel in Washington and sightseeing in a position to make the trip. The trip about the capital. The trip will plan is surely very meritorious and take four days.

EXPERIMENT ON NEW POTION FOR FOXES

Madison—(AP)—A potion distilled from the brains and spinal cords of foxes is being used in experiments at the University of Wisconsin to cure sick foxes.

The experiments conducted by F. B. Hadley of the department of veterinary science have not as yet disclosed that the strange potion is a definite remedy but favorable results have been obtained, it was reported today.

The biologic product is prepared from the brains and spinal cords because investigation has shown that these organs are the primary seat of the fox disease known in science as "enzootic encephalitis."

All germ life in the potion was destroyed by acid and the dose was standardized on a weight basis. The vaccine was given to 15 foxes in a group where the disease had caused the death of several foxes. All but one of the 15 survived the treatment. Many foxes on ranches throughout the states are suffering from rickets, Mr. Hadley said. He has prescribed irradiated ergosterol as a remedy. Irradiated ergosterol contains the famous and invaluable Vitamin D but many thousands more than cod liver oil, Mr. Hadley said.

199 MORE STUDENTS AT U. W. THIS SEMESTER

Madison—(AP)—An increase of 199 students over last year was reported in enrollment figures for the second semester at the University of Wisconsin here today by Frank O. Holt, registrar. Figures announced 3,999 students, 283 of them new, as compared to 3,710 for the second semester last year.

Marquette-Badgers Meet Tonight In Milwaukee

WELLOUT PROMISED AS TWO TEAMS MEET FOR SECOND TIME

Wisconsin Humbled Hilltoppers Tuesday Evening at Madison

Milwaukee—Basketball fans of Milwaukee will be given the piece of resistance of the season Thursday night when Coach Cord Lipe's University of Marquette team will play host to the University of Wisconsin cagers in a return engagement at the Milwaukee Auditorium before a sellout throng of 6,000 fans. The game is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock.

The Badgers won the first game of the set Tuesday night at Madison, 29 to 15, outclassing the Hilltoppers in general play, and are slight favorites to again turn the trick Thursday night, but not by so convincing a margin. In the last game and floor plays Wisconsin had the edge Tuesday night, but typical Marquette fight against Wisconsin, additional knowledge of the Badger tactics, and confidence gained through actual competition against Meanevel's team are expected to put Marquette on more equal footing than was the case Tuesday.

MUST SAVE ENERGY

One factor that should be of benefit to the Hilltoppers is that the game will be the Badgers' third in five days and that Wisconsin will have to reserve considerable energy for the re-opening of Big Ten conference play against the Northwestern Wildcats at Madison on Saturday night. The Cats handed the Badgers their only defeat of the season earlier in December and Coach Doc Meanevel is sure to keep something in reserve for their special benefit—especially in view of the fact that another defeat will eliminate the Badgers from title reckoning in the conference.

It is likely that both coaches will rely upon the lineups that started Tuesday's game which means that Bobby Foser will again take Johnny Paul's place at guard in the Wisconsin lineup. Paul was injured in the Carroll game and it is thought that Meanevel will give him additional rest for the Northwestern game rather than gamble on aggravating the injury. Anyway, Foser was the offensive gem for the Badgers on Tuesday and his five field goals earned him the right to again oppose the Lipe men. Matthews and Farber, forwards; Capt. Bud Foster at center, and Ted Chmielewski, at the other guard, will be in the opening Wisconsin lineup.

MAX TRY LONG SHOTS

Capt. Jimmy O'Donnell and McElligott will be the Marquette forwards; Roy Andrew, who gave Foser such a terrific battle at Madison, will be at center, and Al Shipley and Joe King at guards.

In view of Wisconsin's tight defense and the Hilltoppers' failure to crack through with any degree of success on Tuesday fans may expect a Marquette bombardment from longer range Thursday night. If a few of the long leaves are successful they might tend to crack the Wisconsin defense and bring openings to work the ball in close to the Badger net. Shipley looked good on long shots at Madison and McElligott is another who has fair success with long shots.

HILLTOPS MUST GAMBLE

Then, too, Marquette may elect to try the fast break stuff on gaining the offensive rather than to attack deliberately and wait for the opening. Several times at Madison the Lipe men gained the offensive and seemed to have an opening, but passed the ball back rather than take the gamblers' chance. As we look at it Marquette's hopes of victory rest on the spectacular and the Hilltoppers must be willing to gamble.

The Bee squads of the two schools will also meet in a return engagement Thursday at 4 p. m. in the auditorium. Trailing, 13 to 4, at the half in Tuesday's tilt at Madison, the Junior Hilltoppers staged a magnificent second half rally to cut down the Badgers, 29 to 15, despite the presence of Griswold, Nelson and Foser first string reserves, in the Wisconsin lineup.

"Y" VOLLEYBALLERS LOSE TO KIMBERLY

Drop Four Straight Games to Villagers in Regular League Game

Appleton Y. M. C. A. volleyball team had an off night Wednesday and lost four games to the Kimberly methoders in a valley league game played in the association gym. The Appleton squad won only the last battle of the evening.

The first game saw Appleton take a 15 and 7 lead but then Kimberly rallied and finally copped the fracas by a 16-11 score. The defeat took the heart out of the Appleton team and it lost the next three games, 15-6, 13-11, and 13-11, winning the fifth and last battle, 15-11.

Members of the Appleton team were C. Henry, E. Schmitz, Kenneth St. Clair, J. F. Bartman, C. O. Below, and C. C. Bailey.

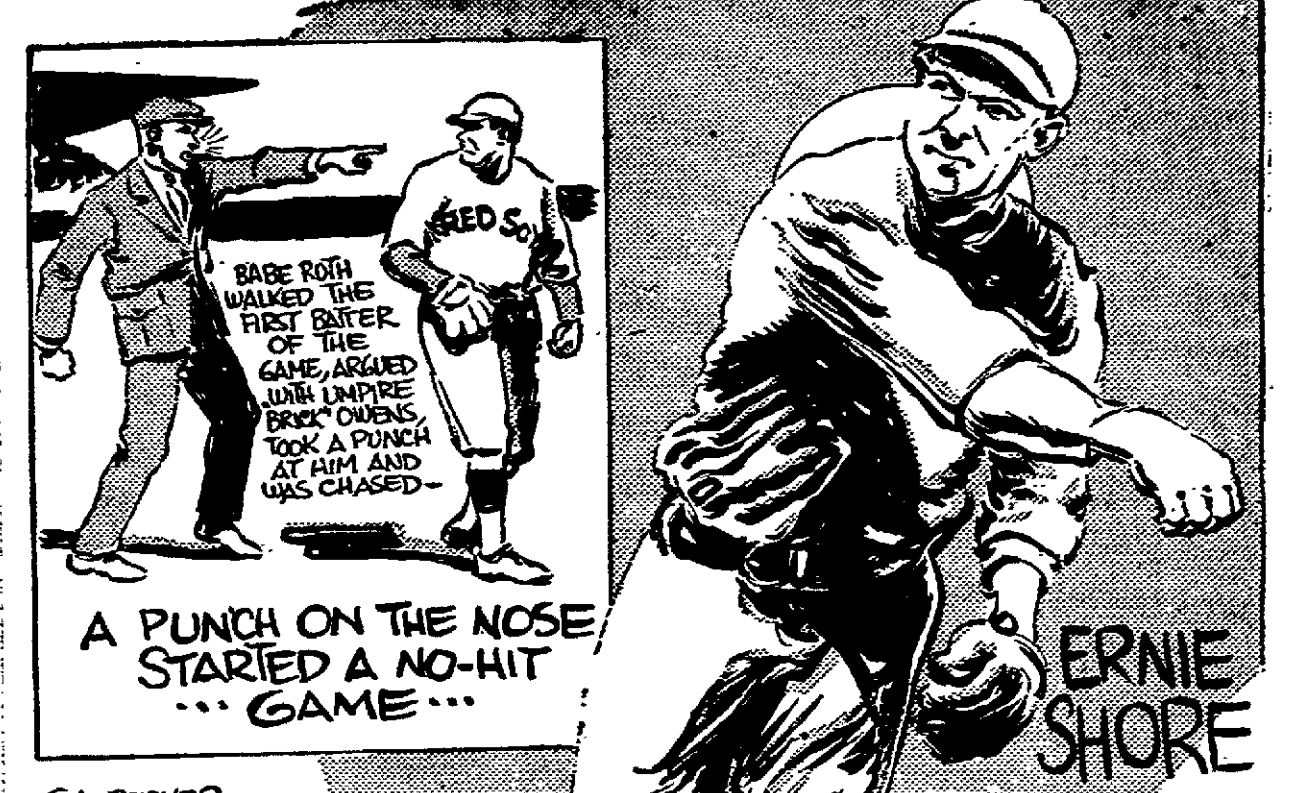

The defeats, although dropping Appleton down a few points, make little difference in league standings which follow:

	W	L	Pct.
Oshkosh Elks	17	8	.680
Green Bay "Y"	12	12	.500
Kimberly Club	29	13	.688
Appleton	17	13	.565
Fond du Lac	12	14	.462
Palmer	5	20	.200

Boston—Jimmy Maloney, Boston, topped Al Friedman, Boston, (4).

Detroit—Billy Light, St. Paul, outpointed Morris Sherman, Detroit, (10).

Manitowoc	2	3	0	.400
West Green Bay	2	3	0	.400
Appleton	1	4	0	.200

THE Fond du Lac Cardinals continue to set the pace in the Fox River Valley High School Basketball league, but their margin over Sheboygan was cut to half a game Friday when the tailend Appleton crew upset the leaders, while Sheboygan and East were making conference history by playing to a 13 to 13 tie.

Oshkosh holds second place and will meet Sheboygan at Oshkosh Friday night. The leaders tangle with West Green Bay, Marinette invades Manitowish and Appleton entertains East Green Bay.

With the halfway mark reached in last Friday's games, the season stands out as one of an unusual number of major upsets, most startling of which were Sheboygan's victory over Marinette and Oshkosh's West's win at Sheboygan and Fond du Lac's defeat at the hands of Appleton.

By scoring a basket and a pair of free throws against West Green Bay, Lawrence Borgwardt of Marinette retained the scoring lead, which fell to him when Leyse of West Green Bay graduated a week ago. Capt. Tolzman of Fond du Lac trails the leaders by a single basket. Galbraith of Manitowish made last Friday's game his last week because of an injury, surrendered a share in third place to Konz of Fond du Lac, while Wegner of Oshkosh and Becker of East continue to press the pacemakers.

The valley scoring records:

	FG	FT	Pct.
Borgwardt, Marinette	12	9	.53

STADIUM MAY CHANGE DATE OF NEXT SHOW

Chicago—(AP)—Chicago Stadium officials may be forced to figure on some other date than Feb. 24 for the proposed third meeting between lightweight champion Sammy Mangell, and Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver, B. C., welterweight.

The Illinois State Athletic commission has not approved the date, partly because of a protest by Leonard Sachs, business manager for Jack Dempsey, who contended that the date was too close to the former heavyweight champion's next offering at the Coliseum, set for Feb. 27.

STRANGLER LEWIS COPS ANOTHER HARD BOUT

Portland, Ore. —(AP)—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former world heavyweight champion, defeated Dr. Carl Sarpolis, Cleveland, two out of three falls in a wrestling match here last night.

Wonder What "Accident" Will Befall Indians Again

BY FRANCIS J. POWERS

Chicago—(AP)—As major league baseball teams prepare to start for the warm and sunny training camps, fans are speculating on what fortunate accident will befall the Cleveland Indians this season.

During his two years as general manager of the Cleveland club, Billy Evans, who admits that he has been lucky all of his life, has seen several misfortunes become breaks of luck for his team.

In the opening game of 1928, Evans almost collapsed when Lew Fonseca, his second baseman, and Eddie Morgan, right fielder, collided while chasing a fly ball. Both were seriously injured and out of the game for weeks.

The only change occurred when G. Davis went into second place in the singles with 659. He rolled this total on games of 201, 212 and 216.

Hoodapp, denied first base, sat on the bench until Carl Lind became ill and then went to second—a new position for him and quickly developed into a skillful fielder while continuing his hard hitting.

Roger Penickpaugh did not consider Wesley Ferrell, pitcher quite ready for the majors when the Indians broke camp last spring, and tried to leave him with New Orleans. But Larry Gilbert was dubious of the boy making good even in Class A ball and refused the offer. Chance and the poor work of several Cleveland veterans gave Ferrell his opportunity to break into the game.

When the season ended he had won twenty-two games and was the sensation of the campaign.

When the Indians arrive in New Orleans, he looks like a new star. Carl Lind will be slated for short stop. Cleveland must have a new man at that post and Lind has regained his health he will have a big edge over Ray Gardner, Johnny Burnett and Jonch Goldman. He is a fine hander of ground balls, has a good arm and is one of the fastest men in the game on the pivot. Normally he is close to a 300 batter and gets many extra bases on his drives.

Should Lind fill the bill, Cleveland will have its best infield since Tris Speaker led the Tribe to a pennant in 1920. Fonseca, at first; Hoodapp, at second; Lind at short and Joe Seid at third, insure Cleveland's speed of batting power as well as fair defensive skill. The Indians have a good outfield and an ordinary amount of catching skill.

RIVER FALLS TOPS NORMAL SCHOOL CAGE STANDINGS

Schedule Not Affected by Dropping of Superior "Yellow Jackets"

STEVENS POINT —(AP)—The Wisconsin Teachers' college conference storm surrounding Superior players will not affect the week-end basketball schedule. The Yellowjackets have no conference games.

The second-place teams are involved in crucial contests. Milwaukee plays at La Crosse tonight and at Plattville Friday. Stevens Point, defeated at home last week by Whitewater, will attempt to get the game back on Friday at Whitewater and Stout plays at Eau Claire.

Lake Forest, Ill., comes to Oshkosh for a non-league game Friday night and on Saturday, St. Paul, La Crosse, will play at Stevens Point. Assuming that faculty representatives of the ten member schools will approve the special investigating committee's recommendations and awards all Superior's first-semester opponents forfeit, the standing in the conference would be as follows:

	W	L	Pct.
River Falls	5	0	1.000
Milwaukee	4	1	.800
Whitewater	4	1	.800
Eau Claire	3	2	.600
Plattville	2	2	.500
Stevens Point	2	2	.500
Stout	2	4	.333
Oshkosh	1	5	.167
Superior	0	5	.000

This table gives Stevens Point a victory which Superior actually won on the court, Eau Claire credit for two which it dropped to the Yellowjackets and Stout credit for one.

WOLVERINES WIN FROM ROACH SPORTS

Dope Bucket Knocked Awry as Wolves Take Big Lead and Then Cop

The old dope bucket in the Old Roach Sports took a 14 to 12 trimming in a playoff to determine the winner of first place in the first half of the loop schedule.

Doped to win easily, the Sports suffered from something Wednesday evening and at the end of the first half were trailing 10 to 2. They staged somewhat of a comeback in the last half tying the score in the third quarter. Then, however, Walter McCanna came to the rescue and dropped a player with but 1 1/2 minutes to play and the Irishers copped.

The Irish now will play the Fourth ward Bears for the title. Originally four teams were tied for the top position, the elimination games resulting in the Bears and Wolverines battling in the final round.

EAST BAYS PRIME TO BEAT APPLETON

Invaders Hold One Win Over Shieldsmen and Aim to Repeat Friday

Appleton high school basketball team will seek to continue its winning streak in the valley Friday evening when it meets East Green Bay at Alexander gymnasium. The winning streak, which some folks might be apt to laugh at is only one game long to be sure, but that's not saying it can't be continued.

The Orange won and lost a game last week, Neenah taking a win Saturday evening. But Neenah is at par with other valley aggregation and perhaps would be class of the conference if playing in this loop. To lose to the Neenahites is no disgrace.

East Green Bay's entry has hopes of getting somewhere in the conference despite the fact things have not been going so well. They hold one decision over the Orange and aim to repeat as the first step on that road to supremacy.

Appleton looked good against Fond du Lac last Friday and there's no reason the team should drop from the pace it set against the Cardinals. The season is half over and the squad now should be reaching top form. Friday night's game will see.

MICKEY WALKER SEEKS LIGHT HEAVY CROWN

Detroit —(AP)—Mickey Walker, who regards his bout with Leo Lomski in Olympia ring tomorrow night as a step toward the light heavyweight title, will weigh in at around 165 pounds while the Aberdeen, Wash., fighter will have a seven or eight-pound advantage.

Roy Riegel Is Named Coach At California

Out of the scramble of legs and arms popped the football, fumbled by a Georgia Tech man. Riegels, playing a fierce game at center, scooped up the oval and began a go-ahead dash. Only he ran the wrong way—toward the goal line defended by California.

Dead to the shouts of his team mates, Riegels thundered down the field, running as he never had before. Only Benny Lom, fleet half-back, was able to overtake him at the two yard line. Realizing then, his mistake, Riegels turned, but opposing tacklers swarmed over him.

On the next play, Lom tried to kick out of danger from behind his own goal line. The kick was blocked and Georgia Tech scored two points on a safety. Only two points, but it cost California's Bears a victory that was doubly bitter because they had outplayed their rivals as far as game statistics went.

The 8-7 defeat and the incident leading up to it were charged off to "breaks" of the game and Riegels' teammates promptly showed their faith in the young fellow by electing him captain for the ensuing season. Riegels made good to the extent that he was named all-coast center on most of the teams selected.

As one of the assistants to Head Coach C. M. "Nibs" Price, Riegels will instruct the "freshies" those shoddy, unsure heroes who not as sure as Riegels.

And that is the story of the comeback of Roy Riegels, reverse runner.

Wonder What "Accident" Will Befall Indians Again

BY FRANCIS J. POWERS

Chicago—(AP)—As major league baseball teams prepare to start for the warm and sunny training camps, fans are speculating on what fortunate accident will befall the Cleveland Indians this season.

During his two years as general manager of the Cleveland club, Billy Evans, who admits that he has been lucky all of his life, has seen several misfortunes become breaks of luck for his team.

In the opening game of 1928, Evans almost collapsed when Lew Fonseca, his second baseman, and Eddie Morgan, right fielder, collided while chasing a fly ball. Both were seriously injured and out of the game for weeks.

The only change occurred when G. Davis went into second place in the singles with 659. He rolled this total on games of 201, 212 and 216.

KIMBERLY CLUB TO PLAY RETURN GAME WITH SHOES

Little Chute - Papermaker Fued Will Be Resumed Tonight at Village

KIMBERLY—The Kimberly Club will be the scene of real rivalry Thursday evening when the Flying Dutchman from Little Chute and the club team engage in a basketball tussle on the local floor.

This is a return game with the Sherry Shoes team and it will be featured with plenty of feeling because Kimberly took the first game by a one-sided score. So the Shoes will be out every second battling to even up this score.

The Sherry Shoe's squad seems to be in great condition and will play the following stars who need no introduction to the valley sports fans. Among the outstanding are Hittman, Schuerle, and Ashman all of the Miller Corls, Appleton's pro team; Mush Ester of Kaukauna, Gunderson and Van Handel of Little Chute.

Coach Courchane of the Club squad again hangs out the gloom sign. This time it is Busch, a regular guard, who will be out of the line still suffering from a knee injury he received in the last game at Fond du Lac. The loss of Busch leaves a big hole in the Kimberly Clubs defense and to remedy it Coach Courchane is shifting Reetz from center to guard. The rest of the players who will see action are: Koll, Gossens, Du Pont, and Stevens.</

NORTHWESTERN IS BEATEN SECOND TIME THIS WEEK

Purdue Completes First Half Season at Ohio State Saturday

CHICAGO—(AP)—Its chance of finishing in the first division of the Big Ten basketball race wrecked by two defeats this week, Northwestern's only interest in the campaign now is to attempt to damage the records of the leaders—Purdue and Wisconsin.

Although they played improved basketball last night, Northwestern's Wildcats suffered a 33 to 21 defeat by Indiana—their second by the Hoosiers and their fourth of the season.

The margin of difference was provided by the splendid work of Branch McCracken, Indiana center, who scored eight field goals and a brace of foul shots, to go into the individual scoring lead with 15 points in six games. The triumph moved Indiana into a tie for third place with Illinois and Michigan, with one game still on its schedule for the week.

Northwestern will seek another victory over Wisconsin at Madison Saturday night. Northwestern defeated Wisconsin, 23 to 14, in the opening contest of the season.

Illinois will be seeking revenge from Minnesota. Minnesota scored a somewhat surprising victory over the Illini at Minneapolis last week.

Indiana appears certain of adding a conquest this week when Chicago invades Bloomington.

Purdue will complete the first half of its season Saturday night at Ohio State, and is favored to win.

The Northwestern-Indiana summary:

INDIANA (39)	G	F	P
Reetz, L.	0	0	0
Zeller, F.	1	1	4
Strickland, E.	0	1	3
McCracken, C.	2	2	2
Vollmer, G.	4	0	4
Gill, G.	0	0	2

Totals	19	3	19

Score at half—Indiana 10; Northwestern 16.

Referee—Lane (Cincinnati); Umpire—Mooney (Notre Dame).

NICHOLS QUINTET WINS FROM CHUTERS

Overtime Battle Goes to Team from Northern Part of County, 21-19

The Nichols city basketball team took an overtime game from Shorty's Shoes of Little Chute Tuesday evening at Nichols. The score was 21 and 19. The Shoes had plenty of shots at the basket but could not locate it enough times to rise out of a victory.

In the first quarter the Nichols quint scored eight points while the Shoes were held scoreless. In the second quarter Gunderson and Hovde each sank a goal and with a couple free throws the half ended 9 and 8 for Nichols.

The third quarter saw the score see-saw back and forth and the period ended 16 and 15 for Nichols. In the final stanza Nichols opened with long shots and Nicodemus right guard sank two goals in rapid succession, putting Nichols ahead 19 and 17 as Ester of the Shoes scored a free throw. Hillman then tied the count with a long toss.

The extra period was rough and fast, Ester taking the full count after a hard foul. When play was resumed, Weyenberg of Nichols dropped a goal to win the game for Nichols.

The other game between the two teams will be played soon.

SPRINTERS SET TWO NEW DASH RECORDS

Philadelphia—(AP)—Men and women track athletes had new indoor marks to shoot at today in the 45-yard sprint for men and the 25-yard sprint for women.

Miss Stella Walsh, fleet-footed Cleveland girl, shattered the world's record in winning the international 25 in 21.45 seconds at the annual games of the Meadowbrook club in the arena last night, while Chester Newman, Newark, A. C., hung up a new figure of five seconds flat in the 45-yard sprint.

Dowman's performance will not stand as a world's record, for the 45-yard distance is not recognized in international competition. The best previous record was 5.179 seconds, made by Percy Williams of Canada, in 1929.

GIVING THE GAME AWAY

"You look very downcast."

"Yes; my wife has been away for six weeks and I wrote her every week and said I spent the evenings at home."

"Well?"

"She is back now and the light will have come—It's for fifty cents."

COLUMBIA UNBEATEN IN BASKETBALL LOOP

New York—(AP)—Columbia is leading the Eastern Intercollegiate basketball league race, being the only undefeated team in the circuit.

Columbia took the lead from Pennsylvania last night with a surprising 32 to 18 victory.

The defeat dropped Penn to second place ahead of Dartmouth and Princeton, which are tied for third with two victories and two defeats apiece.

Columbia gets one more test this week, meeting Yale, the last place team of the circuit, at New Haven on Friday. Dartmouth plays Cornell at Ithaca Saturday in the only other league contest of the week.

CONNIE MACK IS AWARDED $10,000 E. A. BOK PRIZE

Veteran Mentor of Athletics Guest at Testimonial Dinner Wednesday

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Connie Mack, veteran manager of the world's champion athletics, has received the 1929 E. A. Bok award, presented annually to the man or woman who, during the preceding twelve months, "rendered the most outstanding service to Philadelphia."

The gift, a $10,000 check enclosed in an ivory case, a gold medal and a scroll, was presented last night at a private dinner at which Mack and 50 prominent citizens were guests of the board of trustees of the award.

Mack, who had been in Florida awaiting the beginning of the baseball training season, made a hurried trip from the south to receive the honor, heretofore bestowed upon artists, scientists, educators and philanthropists.

Charles E. Fox, former district attorney, made the presentation speech and lauded the gray-haired manager for his years of effort "devoted to the honest, decency and efficiency of the national game."

"For this fine condition," he said, "one man stands out prominently in the whole nation—teacher, inspired leader of his own players and players everywhere; forty-six years a player, pattern, coach, inspirer of youth, clean sportman and player of the game according to rules. He is Connie Mack. His interest in boys and young men, his consideration of his players, his family life, his love and respect for the game—these lifted him in high estate, and with him—the game."

The speaker revealed that Mr. Bok himself had assisted in the selection of Mack, and had expressed his gratification to Mack in person after the Athletics' victory in the last world series.

COURTNEY ELIMINATED IN FLORIDA GOLF MEET

Coral Gables, Fla.—Dan Courtney of Appleton, failed to survive the first round of match play in the annual invitation golf tournament over the Miami-Bikeme country club course here yesterday.

He was trounced by H. W. Bash of Columbus, Ohio, in the third sixteen, by 5 up and 4 to play.

Howard A. Tryon of Elmira, N. Y., newly crowned national champion of golf club champions defeated the veteran Lee Chase of Buffalo, by one up sinking a six-foot putt on the final green for the victory. A long putt on the seventeenth enabled Tryon to square the match, after he had lost the two previous holes.

Madison—(AP)—Miss Jennie Hoverson entered the hall of bowling fame here last night when she had a 299 game. Observers say it is the first time that a woman has bowled a perfect game in league competition in Wisconsin. Miss Hoverson, as a member of the Meyer and Quinn team, had games of 299, 224, and 151, for a total of 774. A three-game mark for women in the state.

Sports Question Box

Question—Bases are full. The score is tied in the last half of the ninth inning. Pitcher throws four balls to the batter and the umpire tells the batter to take his base. This forces in the winning run. The runner on third scores but the batter does not touch first until after he has been advised to do so. Is that legal?

Answer—Yes. The batter is automatically entitled to first. This is one gift in the game of baseball that cannot be denied.

Question—Is Les Marriner, who played football at Illinois rated well as a pro boxer?

Answer—He would be regarded as a great prospect if he did not keep breaking his hands.

Question—Do the players on the Pacific Coast League travel in aeroplanes?

Answer—They have. It does not seem to be a regular thing although there is a great deal of flying on the coast.

Question—Do you think it is a good idea for boxing commissions to compel those applying for licenses as professional boxers to try out first in the amateur ranks?

Answer—Yes. A youngster trying out in the amateurs would be under the direct supervision of competent officials and his family instead of a manager who was not concerned about the boxer's welfare. In this way the youngster could better judge if he is cut out to take up boxing as a professional.

Question—From what college was Ad Warren the heavyweight boxer graduated?

Answer—From North Carolina state.

Question—If a ball player lives in California and must train in Florida, is his railroad fare paid by the club that signs him?

Answer—It is.

GEORGE SUTTON READY FOR BILLIARD COMEBACK

Chicago—(AP)—The shaving of his famous goatee and flowing mustache has convinced the officials of the National Billiard association that George Butler Sutton should have a chance to regain his place among leaders in the 152 billiard game.

Sutton, who is 66 years old, was 192 champion more than 29 years ago. He has been offered a match of 200 points with Percy Collins of Chicago, the date of which will be set if the veteran agrees. Sutton raised the goatee and mustache years ago because he appeared too young. Now he has removed them to appear young.

UTILITIES FACING KEEN COMPETITION IN SECURITIES SALE

Demand for Current, Gas Grows and Companies Must Expand

BY J. C. ROYLE
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
Washington—(AP)—Public utility companies throughout the United States are in the midst of severe competition. This is not only in connection with sale of service to the public, although competition exists in that field also, but in an important way with the sale of securities.

The demand for electric current and gas is growing rapidly. In the last year $1,772,000 worth of bonds of electric companies were placed, a gain of 27 per cent over the preceding year. Gas companies made a similar gain. The two types of securities are in demand because of the stability of electric and gas companies and the fact that they are not subject to the fluctuations of the stock market.

They must expand their facilities and that expansion can be financed only by the sale of securities. The public utility companies are now in a position to raise a large amount of money for expansion. The demand for securities is so great that the public utility companies are in a position to raise a large amount of money for expansion.

Strong, by phone, arranged for Dr. Harry Harris of Miami to drive to Key West last night. Then he reported Dr. Carl V. Shipley of Chicago and

As this was done, some news was that Mrs. Strong was in a very serious condition. It was undoubtedly a very difficult situation for the family. It is known that Mrs. Strong is a very young woman and her condition is very serious.

FEW PEOPLE KNOW MUCH ABOUT WHAT DRY LAW INVOLVES

You Don't Violate Volstead Act, for Instance, by Drinking

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Washington—Although one reads occasionally of a person who never heard of prohibition there are millions, in the opinion of some government officials, who are unaware just what things involved in the handling and consumption of liquor are actually violations of the federal law.

The National Commission on Law Enforcement and Observation and the prohibition unit have agreed as to the desirability of recodification of all the statutes used in prohibition enforcement. That does not mean that the laws will be in any way changed or that recodification is concerned with more drastic penalties. But it may be that a better understanding of just what is a violation and what is not may save one or two well-meaning citizens from fines or imprisonment, so read right on—bearing in mind that state laws are something else again and that some state enforcement codes are much more to be dreaded than Uncle Sam's.

Here's what lawyers of the prohibition unit say:

It is not illegal to take a drink, under the Volstead act.

The legal experts of the prohibition unit do not contend that it is illegal, by federal statute, to buy a drink in a speakeasy for consumption on the premises.

It is not against the law per se to accept the offer of a drink.

It is a violation of the Volstead act to give another person a drink for the act provides among other things that no person shall "intoxicate" another. This is a misdemeanor and a maximum $500 fine is provided for the first offense. The federal authorities have never prosecuted anyone for giving away a lone drink or even two, they say, but the offense is theoretically punishable.

It is against the law to carry liquor on the hip or elsewhere on the person or in a vehicle—because that is denominated a felony under the Jones act and is punishable by up to five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine, though these penalties are designed to apply to large-scale operators.

It is a violation of the Volstead act to have liquor in one's home unless obtained before the prohibition went into effect. This is also legally a misdemeanor and may be punished by as much as a $500 fine for the first offense.

The government holds that a person who buys liquor and arranges for its delivery is guilty of conspiracy to violate the law, although this point has not yet been decided by the supreme court.

The Jones "five and ten" act classifies as felonies the transportation, sale, manufacture, export or import of intoxicants.

The only way a person can take a drink without coming into contact with a law violation or a law violator, technically speaking, is to consume liquors purchased and kept on the premises since before prohibition or obtained on a physician's prescription.

The Sheppard bill, designed to brand the buyer of liquor definitely as a law violator, would cause the buying of a drink in a speakeasy or elsewhere to become a misdemeanor. It would also make into law the government's contention that a man who orders liquor transported and delivered is guilty of an illegal act.

Codification of laws having to do with prohibition means their collection into one law or set of laws available for prompt reference and the most intelligent use in prosecutions.

With such codification, provisions not only in the straight prohibition law but analogous provisions in customs, internal revenue, navigation and other laws would be brought together into one prohibition law which would cover everything now available.

Prosecutors regard the present scattered and disconnected set up as laborious and cumbersome.

2,100 LOSE LIVES IN STATE FROM ACCIDENTS

Madison—(AP)—Accidents claim more than 2,100 lives in Wisconsin each year, being surpassed only by heart disease, cancer, pneumonia, apoplexy and Bright's disease, L. H. Hatcher, of the state department of health said today.

Accidents and tuberculosis were responsible for 27 percent of the 12,188 deaths among children three to 14 years old during 1928, according to Mr. Hatcher.

Burns killed 144 persons in Wisconsin in 1928, 25 of these by fire and 119 from boiling water and acid. Forty-six children under five years of age died from burns and scalds, Mr. Hatcher pointed out. That most of these cases were occasioned by the upsetting of boiling water, setting fire to clothing while playing with matches, playing with fires in stoves and on bonfires.

Automobile accidents claimed the largest number of the accidental deaths with 424, which caused 424 deaths, ranking next.

Drowning took 240 lives, a greater annual toll than railroad, street cars and firearms combined, Mr. Hatcher said. Accidental discharge of firearms caused 50 deaths, 14 of which were children under the age of 15.

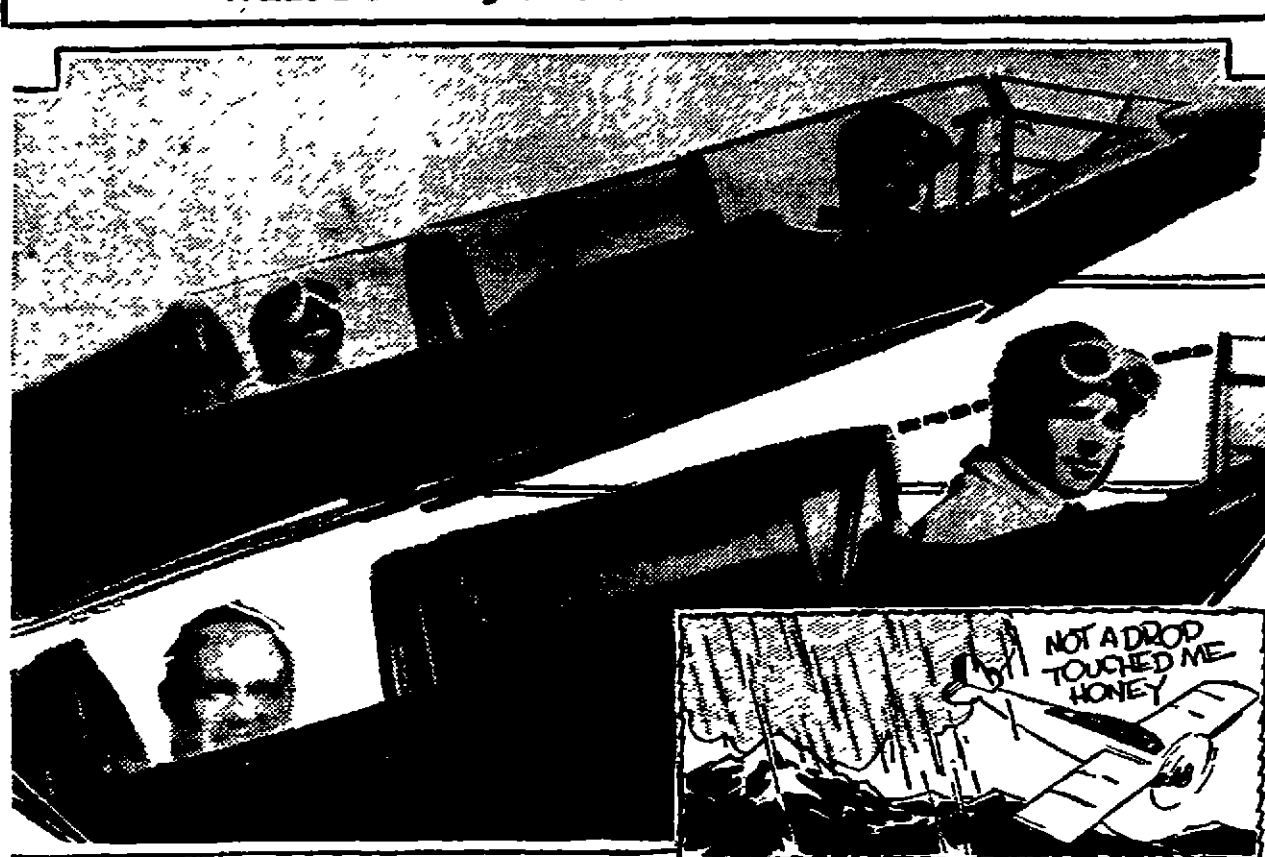

The death rates from accidents in 1928 was 70 per cent of the population and in 1925 it was 74.3. Mr. Hatcher attributed the increase to the automobile.

Old Age Joyous Period, Says Former Professor

San Francisco—Old age, which is usually the time when all of a person's troubles come to a climax, dragging unhappiness with them, ought to be the happiest, most joyous period of one's life—ought to be, and can be if people would try to make it so.

This is the declaration of Dr. Lillian J. Martin, psychologist, writer, professor emerita of Leland Stanford University and at 73 one of America's most active and useful women.

Dr. Martin has just written a book, "Salvaging Old Age." She wrote it after joining Dr. Claire de Gruchy and three other psychologists in an intensive examination of 365 old men and women from all classes of society.

ONLY THREE WERE HAPPY
"Not more than three of these 363 old people were happy," says Dr. Martin. "And why? Briefly, because they were mentally out of harmony with the world in which they were living."

Whether rich and retired, or county wards struggling on mere pittance to live, they all looked on themselves as "has-beens." With these three exceptions, they had allowed themselves to get out of touch mentally and spiritually, and were living in the past.

Dr. Martin herself has found happiness in age.

Born of a conservative New York family, she studied at Vassar, taught school in Omaha and finally became a faculty member at Stanford. When she became 65, the age at which Stanford retires its professors, she refused to give up her activity. Instead she became more active than ever.

She started by taking a trip around the world, writing a book about it on her return and following that up by going on a lecture tour. She continued her studies as eagerly as a college junior. At 76 she learned to drive a car, an open roadster, although she had to take three examinations before she could get a driver's license.

The stirring events in Russia interested her, so she went there herself, traveled 5000 miles through the land of the Soviets and returned bursting with facts and ideas about the great Communist experiment.

Then having worked with students, war veterans and other young people she decided to study her own generation.

"So many old people," she explains, "are unhappy because old age, as we know it, means usually a state of sluggishness, a state of waning interest in life. In China old age is venerated here it is neglected in our attitude is right. Old age should be looked upon as a time of life peculiar to itself, with its own problems, struggles, pleasures, triumphs and achievements. People should not be veneered simply for their years, but for what they have of wisdom to counsel and guide. Neither should they be shelved simply because they are old."

MUST GET REST EARLIER
"A time of rest? No, we should rest as we go through life. A tired old man is a man who didn't rest enough in youth."

"The crux of a happy old age is to keep the mind alert. Don't be dogmatic. Be interested and be interesting. Too to be a happy old man or woman you must prepare for it, adopt a program for preventive mental hygiene, keep the mind facile, alert, tolerant, adjustable."

Dr. Martin herself intends to keep awake until death calls. She has two ambitions right now. One is to go through Africa. The other is to raise plants for a living.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough or chest cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It's not available at all to mix and costs but a trifle. Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make a full pint. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in severe bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

JUNIOR CRIME WAVE GROWING IN CHICAGO

Chicago—(AP)—The junior crime wave stood about like this today: Robberies, one, loot, nine pennies. Shootings, one. Arrests, two. Innocent bystanders, (adults) wounded, one.

Paul Postelmek, 12, was the robbery victim. Two lads, ages 11 and 12, held him up at the point of a stick and took the nine pennies. Paul had them arrested.

David, Dumond, 12, was the boy with the real pistol. He told John Sansona, 14, to "stick 'em up." John laughed. David pulled the trigger of the gun he thought wasn't loaded and they took his friend to a hospital with a serious stomach wound.

Along came police, hunting David. They stopped on a corner to ask a man if he had seen the shooting. The

Needless Pain!

The man who wouldn't drive his motorcar half a mile when it's out of order, will often drive his brain all day with a head that's throbbing.

Such punishment isn't very good for one's nerves! It's unwise, and it's unnecessary. A tablet or two of Bayer Aspirin will relieve a headache every time. So, remember this accepted antidote for pain, and spare yourself a lot of needless suffering. Read the proven directions and you'll discover many valuable uses for these tablets. For headaches; to check colds. To ease a sore throat and reduce the infection. For relieving neuralgia, neuritic, rheumatic pain.

People used to wonder if Bayer Aspirin was harmful. The doctors answered that question years ago. It is not. Some folks still wonder if it really does relieve pain. That's settled! For millions of men and women have found it does. To cure the cause of any pain you must consult your doctor; but you may always turn to Bayer Aspirin for immediate relief.

BAYER ASPIRIN
Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

Mental Action Involves Body—Not Brain Alone

Chicago—(AP)—It would take two million people, hooked together in mental reaction to the same idea, to generate enough voltage to light an ordinary incandescent light.

Credit this to the string galvanometer, an instrument so sensitive that it will detect one one-millionth of a volt of electricity, used by Dr. Edmund Jacobson of the University of Chicago, in experiments disclosed today tending to prove that mental activity and imagination are functions involving the whole body rather than brain action alone.

Two years of experimentation have proved to Dr. Jacobson that in the merest of ideas there is a neuromuscular action capable of being measured in the amount of voltage produced.

The subjects used by Dr. Jacobson were schooled in the technique of perfect relaxation; it was necessary virtually to eliminate all muscle tensions except those of vital processes.

Electrode capable of detecting the slightest change in the electrical potential accompanying any muscular tension were sealed to the subject's right biceps, forming the connection with the galvanometer.

On the galvanometer is a quartz string, one one hundred thousandth of an inch thick.

Each subject agreed to imagine, at a prearranged signal, that he was flexing his arm; two-fifths of a second later, a motion picture camera recorded the vibration of the quartz string's silhouette.

The subject was given the signal to stop imagining; a fraction of a second later, the shadow of the quartz string lapsed to the straight line of quiescence.

Dr. Jacobson said that one of his subjects was even able to see and hear himself think by watching the dancing silhouette and listening through a stethoscope connected with an amplifier. The subject, a woman, became so excited, that she lost the required relaxation.

Dr. Jacobson is now furthering his study to include visual imagery man drew a pistol and began shooting and running. Police wounded him, they said, but couldn't stop him.

May Be Embarrassing, He Points Out

Stanley A. Stadl, district attorney, Wednesday issued a statement explaining the new state headlight testing laws. Mr. Stadl advised all car owners, when making application for a 1930 license to answer "yes" to the question asking if the headlights have been tested and found in good shape. Car owners should, of course, first have their lights tested, he said.

The district attorney pointed out that the new state traffic code provides a fine not to exceed $25 for the first failure to answer this question. However, a person may answer "no" to the question about the headlights," Mr. Stadl said "and suffer no immediate penalty because the authors of the code failed to provide one. The secretary of state can notify local police that the person's lights have not been tested and the police, in turn, can serve a notice demanding a test and adjustment of the lights within three days. A penalty is provided for failure to follow the police orders."

Mr. Stadl also pointed out that fault for an accident may be predicated upon poor or glaring headlights, and if, after telling the secretary of state that his lights have not been tested, the motorist should become involved in an accident, it is probable that he will be the loser in a suit for damages for the reason that he will be admitting operation of his car without proper headlights.

The motorist found with headlights glaring or providing insufficient lighting may be given a ticket by police officers. This ticket notifies the owner of the car that he must go to a certified light testing station and have his lights tested and adjusted within a prescribed time. He may adjust them himself if he can do so properly. After adjusting the lights, the station then turns the ticket back to the police department and the motorist's name is taken from the records. Should the motorist's ticket fail to return to the police department within the specified time, a warrant is issued for him.

EDUCATIONAL BODY TO CONVENE NEXT WEEK

Madison—(P)—More than 100 Wisconsin educators will board a special train at Chicago, Feb. 22, bound for the 60th anniversary meeting of the Department of Superintendents of the National Educational Association at Atlantic City.

The train schedule is arranged so that the trip through Cumberland Gap and down the Potomac will be made in daylight. At Harper's Ferry, the delegation will listen to an address by Dr. H. T. MacDonald, president of Storer's College.

Alaska's mineral production, including precious metals and base metals as well as petroleum amounted to $14,061,000 in 1929.

Has Good Record

Andrew Eklund, Postage Commissioner, netted county highway commissioner, was the first county highway commissioner in Wisconsin. He has served 25 years in that position and has a 37 year record in road building.

COMMEND COMMANDER OF APPLETON GUARDS

Although reports from the adjutant general's office of the Wisconsin National guard on inspection of the local company will not be received until next month, indications are of a commendation. A letter from Lieut. Col. Harry Williams, United States Purchasing and Distributing Officer, at Camp Douglas, recently received by Capt. Lloyd P. Schroeder, commended Capt. Schroeder on condition of ordinance equipment and the company locker and supply rooms. Inspection of the equipment was made several weeks ago by Lieut. Col. Edgar N. Caldwell, of the inspector general's department.

Gas On Stomach Dizziness, Indigestion

Don't worry or suffer another moment from the misery of indigestion, bloating, gas, and that suffocated, hard-to-breathe feeling after eating. Just a tablespoonful of Tanlac before eating will end all this pain and discomfort. But why suffer from these stomach troubles at all? A short course of Tanlac taken regularly before meals and bedtime will do wonders in ridding you of them for good and make you feel like a real man. Try a bottle on the basis it must help you or money back. At all druggists. Accept no substitute.

Talks To Parents

THE GOOD LOSER

By Alice Jackson Peale

Roger came howling into the living room, digging a pair of fists into his streaming eyes. "Mother," Ashley and Pete took my marbles away. "How did that happen?"

"Well, we were playing and they got them all away from me—my apples even."

"That's the way you play marbles, isn't it? You were trying to get theirs, weren't you?"

"Yes, but I didn't," he sobbed. "And they got every single, last one."

"Well, that's too bad son. I guess you'd better practice shooting by yourself. Then maybe next time you can win back some of those you lost. Cheer up, you'll get your allowance Saturday and then you can buy a whole new lot of marbles."

And that was all the comfort Roger got.

When your child comes to you for sympathy because he has been beaten in fair competition, are you wise enough to be matter of fact and to judge his situation in the thoroughly impersonal manner of the disinterested outsider?

The child who finds it hard to be a good loser can best learn his lesson when even mother, whom he is accustomed to regard as a bulwark of comfort and sympathy, accords him no more than justice. Her impartiality allows him no opportunity to nurse his sense of injury and self pity.

No one can hope to win all the time, and knowing how to lose with grace should be a part of everyone's social equipment. It is not easy to learn to lose cheerfully and it pays to learn early.

A four-year investigation by the Utah department of cereals and grain showed that a 25 per cent profit per year was made on a cow.

Warn Against Breaking Of State Barber Laws

Amateur tonsorialists in Appleton as well as other cities in the state have again been warned to discontinue barbering without a license in a statement received recently by Noble Janelle, president of the Associated Master Barbers by a special investigation committee of the organization. The committee reported that in this section of the state there were numerous violations reported.

Violations are of the statutes regulating licensing of all persons practicing barbering, and providing punishment for those who practice without a license or falsely pretend to be licensed, according to reports. Many cases brought to light reveal persons who are doing tonsorial work for others in their homes.

As a sideline to some other business the law does not apply to persons doing barber work for any member of their families, but it does apply, the association president says, to any person doing work in his home for neighbors, friends, acquaintances, or the public in general. There have been violations of this law in Appleton, and most cases the work has been done at reduced prices, according to reports received here.

SMITH TO OPEN NEW CIRCUIT ON MARCH 4

Marion Smith, foreman, trainer, with headquarters at Appleton Vocational school, will open a series of foremanship training classes in the Lake Shore division starting March 4. It was announced today by H. G. Noyes, itinerant coordinator of the pulp and paper industry at the Vocational school. Mr. Smith will teach classes in industrial plants at Two Rivers, Manitowish, Siscoygan, Racine, Cudahy, Kenosha and other cities on Lake Michigan, according to Mr. Noyes. Mr. Smith's itineraries are arranged and supervised by Mr. Noyes.

DEFER START ON NEW HIGH SCHOOL UNTIL NEXT YEAR

Won't Begin Work Until
Funds Are on Hand to Finish Job

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—According to a decision made at the meeting of the board of education Wednesday night at the high school, the construction of the first unit of the new high school, originally planned for this spring, will be delayed for a year when there will be sufficient funds to carry out plans for the entire school building. A letter was read from Smith and Brandt, Appleton architects, relating to this plan.

A three-year contract was offered to J. McMahon, superintendent of public schools and is under consideration. Mr. McMahon has been superintendent of schools in New London for the past seven years. The hiring of teachers for next year will continue during the next few weeks, it was announced. Mr. McMahon presented a list of possible graduates to the members of the board at this time.

R. F. Goranson, school supervisor of music, has received an appointment to teach in the summer school of the University of Missouri. His session will begin May 26, arrangements having been made to release him from his duties in New London at that time.

HIGH BASKETEERS TACKLE DE PERE 5

City Teams Meet Clintonville
on New London Floor Friday Night

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—New London high school basketball team Saturday night will play the strong East De Pere five at De Pere. The game is scheduled for Saturday evening because of a theater opening in Green Bay on Friday evening, which, it was expected, would attract many basketball fans.

The Clintonville home basketball attraction will be a game here on Friday evening between Clintonville's City team and the New London city team.

NEW LONDON SOCIETY

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The regular meeting of St. Paul Episcopal guild was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. F. E. Lowell, Wyman-st. Work of the organization consists of trying comforters, for anyone who has comforters ready to tie. Money raised in this manner is used in various activities of the church. No social activities will be planned before the Lenten season. Plans are already being made for the annual Lenten tea to be given in April.

Mrs. Milton Stanley of Shawano, Mrs. J. J. Burns and Mrs. G. W. Demming and Mrs. J. J. Burns were guests at the meeting of the Tuesday club at the home of Mrs. F. J. Pfeiffer, Beacon-ave.

The regular business session of the Women's Relief corps Friday afternoon will be followed by a social hour. The committee is headed by Mrs. Catherine Luckaby, who will be assisted by Mrs. Clara Jagoditsch, Mrs. Amelia Sterns, Mrs. Josephine Dexter, Mrs. Margaret Edminister, Mrs. Anna Schoenrock and Mrs. Catherine Schetter. A feature of the afternoon's entertainment will be a program commemorating the birthday anniversaries of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington.

A large crowd was served at the Valentine tea given by the Dorcas society of the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. E. Therns, Beacon-ave. Serving at 4 o'clock and continued until near the dinner hour. Tables were attractive in Valentine appointments.

EXPECT MAJORITY OF OFFICIALS TO SEEK REELECTION

Alderman T. W. Linstrom, Second Ward, Only One to Drop Out so Far

Kaukauna—Kaukauna voters will elect a mayor, clerk, assessor, treasurer, five aldermen and five supervisors at the spring election this year. Up to the present time little has been said about the election. Although no definite statements have been made by the incumbents, it is believed that most of them will seek reelection.

Those whose terms expire this spring are William T. Sullivan, mayor; Louis C. Wolf, city clerk; Joseph H. Dietzler, treasurer; Peter J. Metz, assessor; Eathan A. Brewster, first ward alderman; T. W. Linstrom, second ward alderman; William Carnot, third ward alderman; Hugo Wittenbach, fourth ward alderman; and Bert Roberts, fifth ward alderman. J. H. Nielsen, first ward supervisor; Sylvester, second ward supervisor; William H. Powers, third ward supervisor; Ben Bell, fourth ward supervisor; and Fred Reichel, fifth ward supervisor. Offices of the mayor, clerk, treasurer, assessor, and aldermen are two year terms, while those of the supervisors are for one year. There are, therefore, five of those terms expire each year.

Most of the present office holders are reluctant to make statements regarding their candidacy at this time. However, Alderman T. W. Linstrom stated definitely that he would not seek reelection on account of his health. L. C. Wolf, city clerk for 32 years, has indicated he would be a candidate again. J. H. Dietzler said that he may run for reelection.

COMMITTEES WILL STUDY EMPLOYMENT

Status of Workingmen in Kaukauna Will Be Discussed This Week

Kaukauna—Committees of the city council and the Kaukauna Advancement association will meet this week to discuss unemployment in the city, according to Mayor W. C. Sullivan. No promise of relief can be made, however, the mayor pointed out. In answer to a petition tendered to the council at its last meeting Mayor Sullivan said that if no relief is found before April the city will request the state to begin building the new Lawrence bridge in order to give employment here.

Social Items

STOCKS OF POTATOES ARE SMALLER THAN USUAL THIS YEAR

7,923,000 Bushels Available in State at First of Year

Madison—(AP)—Stocks of market potatoes held by growers and dealers at the beginning of January were the smallest in several years, both for Wisconsin and the thirty-five late potato states as a group according to the report of the Crop Reporting Service of the Wisconsin and United States Departments of Agriculture released today. Present holdings for late potato states are only about 63 per cent as large as the stocks of a year ago and about 83 per cent as large as two years ago.

Wisconsin late potato stocks available for market on January 1 were estimated at 7,923,000 bushels as compared with 9,009,000 bushels last year. For the thirty-five late potato states the stocks this year are estimated at 32,734,000 bushels as compared with 33,944,000 last year.

In the thirteen Northern States which usually have a surplus of old potatoes for shipment, merchantable stocks on January 1 are estimated to have been 74,207,000 bushels compared with 114,420,000 bushels last year and compared with 74,541,000 bushels on hand January 1, 1927 from the crop of 1925. In all of the states of this group except Maine and Washington, holdings are materially below those of a year ago. Compared with last year, stocks appear to be much lighter in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Montana. In the sixteen "deficient" late potato states where the quantity of potatoes is usually insufficient to supply local needs during the late winter months, stocks are estimated to have been 9,547,000 bushels on January 1 compared with 20,452,000 bushels last year, or only 47 per cent of the annually heavy holdings of a year ago. Present holdings in this group of states are slightly less than stocks on hand January 1, 1927 from the 1924 crop.

Production of potatoes in the thirty-five late states in 1929 is estimated at 22,904,000 bushels out of a total of 37,741,000 for the United States. This estimate is based on the estimated average grown times the reported yield per acre except that an allowance was made in the December revisions for crop failure. The reports received indicate that no appreciable quantity of potatoes available for harvest was left in the ground. Of the quantity harvested, 16,555,000 bushels were "left for food or seed", sold for starch or were lost from decay or shrinkage prior to January 1.

Quantities of merchantable potatoes reported left to livestock up to January 1 were practically negligible. With a smaller production and relatively higher prices this year, there is a distinct tendency among growers of the important surplus states to use the surplus supplies for their own use as food. The report also indicates that the quantity of potatoes planted per acre in the group of nineteen surplus states will average two-tenths of a bushel less than last year. The total quantity saved for food on the farms where grown is estimated at 57,628,000 bushels compared with 64,479,000 bushels last year. The quantity held for seed is estimated at 21,927,000 bushels compared with 34,291,000 bushels a year ago.

PLEASANT RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Shoulders droop under weight of years. Young, yet beauty has fled. Cheeks are sallow and drawn. Unsightly pimples. Keep your system clean and you keep the beauty of youth. Its energy. Its irresistible charm. Then life is not a failure. Clogged bowels and inactive liver cause poisons to seep through the system. Health vanishes and with it beauty and energy. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets will help save you from this dark hour. For 20 years they have been prescribed in place of calomel to men and women seeking health and freedom from constipation. They act easily and smoothly. No dangerous griping. Take nightly before retiring. Results will amaze you.

Thousands of men and women would never be without Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, a vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color, 15c, 30c and 60c. All druggists. adv.

CITY MAY BROADCAST HOME TALENT PROGRAM

Kaukauna—Kaukauna may have a home talent program broadcast over WHBY, Green Bay-De Pere broadcasting station, within the next month if present plans are carried out. The station recently requested that it be allowed more time on the air. If the petition is granted, a series of booster programs will be broadcast by valley cities, it is said.

TRADE SCHOOL FIVE DEFEATS APPLETON

Comes from Behind to Take 19-16 Victory from St. Joseph Team

Kaukauna—After trailing 7 to 4 at the first period, the Kaukauna Vocational school basketball team came to the front to take out a 19 to 16 win over St. Joseph Holy Name team of Appleton at the high school auditorium Wednesday evening. Reuder and Bissler were high point men for the local team, netting four and three baskets each.

The St. Joe team played good ball during the first quarter and easily went into a lead with Kamp, for Appleton, doing the heavy scoring. Coach B. Rice's cagers came to life in the second quarter and aided by several sleeper shots, went into a 10 to 9 lead at the half time period. Appleton tied the score shortly after game was resumed on a free throw. Reuder scored three baskets and within a short time the locals were leading 15 to 10. Artly was almost successful for Appleton in the final quarter, but the lead gained by the Kaws in the third quarter was too great.

Of Interest To Farmers

Clover Seed Unusually Weedy, Farmers Warned

Clover and lespedeza seed are the production of weed seeds, and the bureau advises farmers to be sure of the quality of seeds they are sowing, particularly as to purity and freedom from weed seeds. This advice is especially applicable in sections where the fields are seriously infected with buckhorn and dodder. Both buckhorn and dodder are common, especially in the southern half of the clover producing areas, and with the best efforts, considerable time must elapse before a program of weed control can be of much help. Nevertheless, where the farmer is seeding clover with the expectation of producing seed for sale a vigorous campaign must be waged to cut down the use of weedy clover seed.

"Above all else," says the bureau, "the farmer should use seed that will produce a clover crop—not a weed crop. We can not urge too strongly the value of hardy grown clover seed of adapted varieties for use wherever possible. This is especially true in sections where experience has shown the value of the disease-resistant strains of clover over the popular strains or unadapted strains from other regions. The so-called Tennessee resistant strain of red clover produced for several generations in infected territory, without change of stock is known to have developed a high degree of resistance to clover anthracnose, and for this reason is especially adapted to the southern clover-growing sections."

Reports to the bureau indicate a large increase in clover seed production in 1929, especially in sections that have not produced much clover seed for several years. The conditions which favored the clover seed crop this year in many of these states also favored improved varieties of lespedeza. The presence of dodder in enormous quantities is a serious menace to the industry. In the summer of 1929 few fields of the improved lespedeza were free from dodder. In some cases, there was more dodder than lespedeza. Many growers were inclined to blame the seeds from whom they had bought their seed. The situation is nothing short of serious.

Dodder is perhaps the most generally feared of all noxious weeds, and if the growers of lespedeza seed wish to retain a profitable market for their product, they must make a concerted effort to exterminate this pest in the seed field. Because of the value of home grown adapted varieties of clover the production of home grown clover seed should be encouraged in every way possible, but the clover will be useless unless weeds are kept under control.

The Department of Agriculture suggests that farmers discuss the clover seed problem with the county agent and follow his advice regarding the quality of home grown seed available. County agents, says the department, will help in securing an analysis of seed for weed content as well as for germination if this is found necessary.

Most states maintain seed testing laboratories in connection with the state agricultural experiment station or the state department of agriculture. All kinds of agricultural seeds are also tested by the seed Laboratory of the Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

NEED CLEAN FIELDS

"In order to produce clover seed for the market the farmer must not only use clean seed but he should endeavor to select for seedling, fields that he knows are free from weeds. These fields should be carefully inspected during the growing season and any weeds, especially dodder and buckhorn, should be removed before harvest time; otherwise the seed produced will not find a ready market. Clover seed that is not clean enough for the commercial trade certainly should not be sold to neighbors for reseeding.

The situation with respect to weed seeds, especially dodder, apples with equal force to lespedeza. A large seed growing industry has developed in certain sections of the south in the production of the new improved varieties of lespedeza. The presence of dodder in enormous quantities is a serious menace to the industry. In the summer of 1929 few fields of the improved lespedeza were free from dodder. In some cases, there was more dodder than lespedeza. Many growers were inclined to blame the seeds from whom they had bought their seed. The situation is nothing short of serious.

RUTH CROSS Writes A THRILLING ROMANCE Of The West

The mystic spell of the western mountains has called to the author of "The Golden Cocoon" and "The Unknown Goddess," and Ruth Cross has written a story of love and adventure in the Sierras.

Rocky slopes and rugged peaks become the scene of dramatic struggle, with the colorful characters of the hills clashing in a contest for progress against the barriers of nature and the suspicions, intrigues and emotions of men. Suddenly the combatants find themselves battling for a human prize.

A QUESTION OF HONOR

By Ruth Cross

Ruth Cross develops the vivid story of Anne Wilmot, who comes to Leon Morse's mountain lodge resigned to marrying the railroad builder—because he is wealthy. When she meets Scott Glenn, the young engineer who dares defy Morse, however, she turns against the forces of family, caste and destiny.

You wouldn't Buy an 8 inch Nozzle for a one-inch hose—would you?

4 SCREEN-GRID TUBES

SCREEN-GRID Receiver employing a 227 for a detector would balance up like a one inch hose and an 8 inch nozzle. If a Radio Receiver employs a 227 tube for a detector it is better not to use screen-grid tubes at all. One screen-grid tube has the power to eight others and screen-grid experience has proven beyond doubt that it is necessary first of all to have a screen-grid tube for a detector.

The Secret of Mohawk Pond

CHAPTER 36
RETROSPECT

Q UET returned to the living room as the sheriff departed with his deputies to take Philander Chase to the Litchfield county jail to await the action of those charged with administering justice.

"When I can breathe easier now he's gone," Obadiah exclaimed, breaking in on the thoughts of the others. "Julia, where did you get that gold money you were handling when you thought people weren't looking?"

Julia's mouth drops open and she stared abashed at Peggy and Obadiah. Jim came to her rescue. "I gave it to her," he said. "Julia recognized me as Jamieson Sinclair from a photograph my sister had of me."

Obadiah chuckled, and Peggy with feigned sternness turned on her maid.

"So you took hush money and didn't tell me who Jim was," Peggy said.

"No, ma'am. Mistah Jim asked me not to," Julia answered, and there was a contrite note in her voice.

Turning to Jim, Obadiah sobered. "Knowing your cause to hate Stanton I feared you might be involved. Jim," Peggy looked up quickly; so others had had the same thought. "You were everlasting hanging around here. I know now," as Jim started to interplead, I put out at Prescott's request to kill frogs; when you said on the phone 'tother night you'd got 'em both, I was some relieved."

"You gave me another start the night I was coming back from Sundown's camp with Aquila Chase and saw you in the basement bedroom when I thought you were in Litchfield."

"I was searching for Sundown," Jim explained. "I twice caught him hanging around the place." He turned to Peggy. "Your uncle gave Pop a key to the house so he could kind of look after things, and with a ghost of a smile, 'I appropriated it.'"

"And thereby upset my foolish ideas," declared Obadiah. "As a matter of further foolishness, I put another padlock on the room downstairs so you couldn't get in there again."

"Oh, I thought you did that to bar me out," broke in Peggy. "So that was the milk in the cocoanut?"

"No, ma'am, Miss Peggy. I put fat dar fo' de cat I borrowed from Miss Deborah," explained Julia. "It was mo' feared ob rats den yu' an' ob cats, Miss Peggy, and I done took de cat back and fo'th to Echo Farm when yu' all wasn't lookin'."

Obadiah tramped about the room and stopped before the open door of the secret passage that Peggy had found.

"I'm dumbed if I know how you located that," as he turned with admiring eyes to Peggy.

"It is quite a long story; I'll tell you some time. Do you see the arrow in the woodwork that opens the door?"

"Jim, have you told Peggy that all of her uncle's wealth was found in the vault in the secret room?"

"I haven't had time yet," Jim replied, and unseen by Peggy he turned his thumb suggestively toward the door. Obadiah took the hint.

"Debby's sittin' up waitin'," he said, as he started toward the door. "Jim an' I'll camp out on your lawn, same as we did the night you an' Julia most drowned in the pond, so we wouldn't make you forfeit your inheritance by bein' here as guests."

"And I never knew," Peggy said. "I did want you to stay; I was so afraid that night, but I didn't want to jeopardize my chances of forfeiting the estate to—Jamieson Sinclair," and she smiled at Jim. "Had I known who he was, I might have given in to my tears and had you stay."

Peggy sprang up and threw her arms about Obadiah, kissing him with warmth.

"I can never tell you how grateful I am; how much I admire your cleverness. Philander Chase might have gotten away if you hadn't seen through his disguise. I just can't thank you enough—"

"Pass 'em on to Jim," Obadiah said, somewhat abashed by the girl's act which warmed his heart and brought tears to his eyes. "We are close kin, you know."

The young naval officer threw his arm about his stepfather's shoulders. "And I'll say this," continued Obadiah, "we didn't either of us willingly mislead you; but we couldn't 'zactly find a place to conveniently deceive you without having you think Jim was trying to do you out of your rightful inheritance."

"I don't, please don't," protested Peggy. She didn't need a reminder of the unpleasant thoughts that had filled her mind at various times in her dilemma concerning this shrewd Yankee farmer who had been almost a father to her, and the son she loved.

"Well, settle it between you," Obadiah took a hesitating step toward the front door; then paused. "Oh, I clean forgot," Debby found that letter bearing Jim's name on it when she was over by the woodpile. Sundown was hanging round that day and he may have picked up the letter when you dropped it, bringin' Ben to take the empty envelope to you. Had you read the letter, Peggy, it would have given you the clue to Jim's identity."

"I found out, anyway, but why didn't Aquila—I mean Philander—Chase give me a hint about Jim?" Peggy asked.

"We've never met," broke in Jim. "I've been on foreign service since he became acquainted with Uncle Herbert Prescott, and while he stayed with Pop I was away in New Haven and New York."

"And," added Obadiah, "four uncle wasn't chummy with his wife's people, and I was just as standoffish as he. I doubt if he ever mentioned a soul I was his brother-in-law and I wasn't boasting none of the kinship."

Peggy recalled the stories of the quarrels between her uncle and Obadiah and she smiled as she observed the twinkle in his eyes as he opened the front door and vanished into the night.

Julia retreated discreetly to the kitchen to prepare dinner and Peggy and Jim faced each other.

Peggy seated on the couch, lowered her eyes as Jim approached her. In a second his arms were about her, his low insistent voice pleading for him. "Can you forgive me for being—myself?"

"I'll—I'll try." Her answer was muffled. "I—I must ask forgiveness for doubting you, Jim."

His hand slipped under her chin and raised her head. He looked into her eyes—a gaze which penetrated her soul.

"There is no need for forgiveness where there is perfect trust," he whispered softly as he kissed her upturned face.

Most of the jobs around the house are done by electricity now. The system will not be perfect, however, until some high-voltage invention is worked out for discharging the cook.

HAS MARKET GONE AHEAD TO RAPIDLY? SPECULATORS ASK

Outlook, They Agree, Depends as Much on Technical Condition as Anything

Copyright, 1936, By Cons. Press
Wall Street, New York (CPA)—The outlook for the stock market depends, in the estimation of the active trading element in Wall Street, fully as much on its technical condition as on anything else except possibly the commodity price situation.

Agreeing that business prospects are reasonably good, by which is meant that the chances for improvement are better than for further deterioration, speculators concern themselves with the extent of the recovery the market has already made and ask whether or not it has not gone ahead too fast.

The fact that the averages have made a new high since the November panic is favorable, according to the view held in Wall Street as far as it goes. The theory is that the old advance points on the side of the market have been broken through, the market is bound to go higher but that does not negate a reaction in the interim. This is of more interest to the in-and-out trader than to the speculator for the longer term but it is the problem of the day.

The favorite mediums for speculation are still the higher priced industrials, utilities and railroad stocks. The oils have no friends. The coppers drag despite the fact that the producers so far have been able to hold the price of the metal at 18 cents. There is still skepticism about the spring demand for motor cars but with these exceptions the market has been pushing steadily ahead with some individual stocks at the highest since the November break.

The buying does not concern itself primarily with income return any more than it did in the bull market of last summer. Otherwise stocks like American Can, Westinghouse Electric and Consolidated Gas would not be selling where they are. Attention is concentrated on the quality of the investment, the outlook for the longer future, the character of the management and the certainty that regardless of what happens meantime the equity of shareholders in enterprises of this grade must grow with the country. This is the same argument that was heard before the panic but it is still listened to with respect.

One other factor enters into the matter and that is that those who hold stocks now are able to hold them. If they sell it will be because they are convinced that the industry represented has taken a definite turn for the worse. Their holdings are not to be dislodged by temporary setbacks in the market nor are they of the class that "calps" a point or two here and there. This makes for a stability of price level impossible to attain in an inflated market.

HURLEY PRAISES PARTY FOR PROHIBITION STAND

New York (CP)—Asserting that the Republican party was facing without evasion the prohibition question, Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley told members of the National Republican club at its annual Lincoln dinner that "the Republican party is not a party of nullification."

"The eighteenth amendment is a part of the constitution," he said. "We hear much talk of the nullification of that amendment by violation of it. The air is full of superficial arguments about prohibition and personal quarrels and conflicts involving it. Above all this discussion and clamor there is just one clear note, and that is that the Republican party and the Republican president, faithful to their traditions, are standing resolutely by the constitution."

"The president has no choice as to what laws he will enforce and what ones he will not. He has no right to change any law. The first official act was to take a solemn oath to uphold the constitution and enforce the laws of the nation. Constitutional amendments may be repealed or modified by the orderly process provided in the constitution. The Republican party is not a party of nullification."

SERIOUS FIRE WHEN MEXICAN ARMOY BURNS

Vera Cruz, Mexico (CP)—Fire inflicted a considerable loss in the business section of this city during the night. The blaze broke out in a hat factory and spread rapidly to adjoining buildings. One of the armories, where explosion of stored ammunition made a spectacular display. In the midst of the fire the city's water supply failed and the firemen were almost helpless to combat the flames.

MOTORIST ARRESTED FOR JUMPING ARTERIAL

Warner Sorenson, Larser, Wis. was arrested Wednesday night by Gus Hersekorn, motorcycle officer, on a charge of jumping an arterial at the corner of College and Cherry st. He is to appear in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg Thursday afternoon to answer charges.

OPERA STAR WILL ASK DIVORCE FROM ROSEN

New York (CP)—Miss Nanette Guilford, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company, has announced her intention of seeking a divorce from Max Rosen, concert violinist. Miss Guilford, who is 23 years old, and Mr. Rosen, who is 31, were married Nov. 28, 1928. At the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gutman on West End ave, she said she would apply for the divorce on the grounds of incompatibility of temperament.

"I am convinced," she said, "that it is very difficult for two musical artists to make a success of married life."

STREET ALMOST KEPT "ABE" FROM PRESIDENT'S JOB

But Lincoln Turned Down $10,000 Position as Railroad Counsel

BY JOHN A. CRONE
Copyright, 1936, By Cons. Press
New York (CPA)—The financial district which paid homage to Abraham Lincoln Wednesday remembers that Wall Street almost kept him from being president.

Only a few old timers in the Street recall Lincoln's relations with American railroads, such as his employment as counsel for Illinois Central or the famous Rock Island bridge case, in which he enunciated a right for common carriers which has become accepted doctrine. Lincoln also was a guiding spirit behind the Union Pacific and helped determine its gauge, which became the standard gauge of the country.

Lincoln came to New York in February, 1850, to deliver an address at Cooper Union Institute. His debates two years earlier, with Stephen A. Douglas, had attracted national attention and the east was eager to hear him. In that distinguished audience were Erasmus Corning, president of the New York Central railroad, and his cousin, James B. Merwin, one of Lincoln's friends.

TURNED DOWN JOB
After the speech Corning asked Merwin to introduce him to the hotel, who was stopping at the Astor hotel, part of which still stands at the corner of Broadway and Vesey, just across city hall park—and the next day the three men met in that hotel.

"Mr. Lincoln," began President Corning, "I understand that in Illinois you win all your lawsuits."

"Oh, no, Mr. Corning that is not true, but I do make it a rule to refuse a case unless I am convinced that the litigant's cause is just."

Mr. Corning then offered Lincoln $10,000 a year to become general counsel for the New York Central, a line then running from Buffalo to Albany but the latter replied:

"Why, Mr. Corning what could I do with $10,000 a year? It would ruin my family to have that much income. I don't believe I had better consider it."

Although Mr. Merwin followed Lincoln to Chicago and later to Springfield, the latter steadfastly refused Corning's offer. Shortly after this, the Illinois state convention at Decatur nominated Lincoln as the state's choice for president and in May, 1850, he was nominated for president by the Republican national convention at Chicago.

TEN GET MEDALS

Janesville (CP)—Ten Wisconsin youths received the first Bliss Memorial awards for outstanding bravery during the last two years, at a dinner here Wednesday night. Two gold medals and eight inscribed pens from Gov. Kohler were awarded. The fund was created two years ago as a Howard F. Bliss memorial.

"FEELING BETTER THAN IN YEARS; KONJOLA DID IT

Lady Tried In Vain to Find Right Medicine—Konjola to the Rescue

MRS. NELLIE BELL

"No words can describe the misery I suffered from nervous indigestion, and headaches," said Mrs. Nellie Bell, 224 South Barclay street, Waterloo, Ia. "I became weak, worn down and had so little ambition that the housework was drudgery. I was always constipated, and my system must have been clogged with poisons. Gas and acid condition was always present in my stomach, and I suffered from terrible, sickening headaches."

"My attention was attracted to Konjola by the sincere endorsements in the paper. Well, just as I was told it would do, Konjola went to the very seat and source of my various ills. In three weeks I was a well woman, free from all pain and suffering. I can eat anything; my nerves are quiet, and I feel great. It is easy for me to believe that Konjola has more than a million friends."

Konjola is sold in Appleton at Schlicht Bros Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Even Washington Society Is Introduced To "Racket"

Washington (CP)—Every ambassador man himself, so he requested and legation in Washington has been warned by special details of 1100 to beware of a short, dark stranger with a penchant for separating prominent men from sums of $100 each.

The diplomats were told the stranger promises, in return for such a sum to see to it that the name of each client is made socially prominent. The police action came at the request of the state department. Official cognizance of what Detective Sergeant Joseph Waldron, in charge of the investigation, termed a "racket," was taken when Ambassador Orestes Ferrara of Cuba, was approached by the stranger, who suggested he would be only too pleased to place the ambassador's name on the society page of newspapers in every hamlet, village and town in the United States.

The ambassador is an old newspaper man.

5 DRY RAIDS MADE BY FEDERAL AGENTS

Cunningham Makes Good Threat to "Show Milwaukee Real Enforcement"

Milwaukee (CP)—Deputy Prohibition Administrator W. Frank Cunningham today had started to make good his promise to "show Milwaukee some real enforcement" before he was transferred. His agents went out to five "spots," dumped several hundred gallons of liquor and beer and arrested two women and six men.

The largest haul of contraband was made at the National Avenue Motor club, a chicken dinner shack, where the agents dumped five half barrels of beer, 35 pints of moonshine, 20 pints of alcohol, 12 pints of gin, and a five-gallon jug of moonshine, two five-gallon jugs of alcohol, five one-gallon tins of alcohol, two 25-gallon barrels of alcohol and one 25-gallon barrel of moonshine, a gallon of wine and three bottles of cordials. Leo Lange was arrested.

John Jago, previously arrested, was again taken to another Nation place where seven 1 1/2 barrels of beer and a wildcat brewery were destroyed. In another repeat raid on the Walters and Cooks club at Water-st, three quarts of moonshine were found and Henry Gietzen was arrested.

About 500 bottles of beer, a wildcat brewery and a gallon of moonshine were taken at a Cherry st address where the agents arrested Theresa Holmke as the proprietress and one man. Thirty-two pints of liquor were taken on the fifth raid and two men and a woman, the wife of one of them, were arrested.

STOLEN CAR

An Essex coach, 1917 model, was stolen Wednesday night at Appleton according to a warning received by local police by telephone early Thursday morning from that city. The machine, which is blue in color, had the 1930 license C-2221.

"I never heard of the fellow before," said the police officer. "Now, not only Ambassador Ferrara, but some 53 other ambassadors and ministers are ready for the short, dark stranger."

BIG BUSINESS MEN DENY THEY WANT TO CONTROL CHICAGO

All We Want to Do Is to Raise Money to Run City,
Strawn Says

EDITOR'S NOTE—Yesterday, Bruce Catton, staff writer for Post-Crescent and NEA Service, told how the juggling of tax assessments by politicians has brought about the bankruptcy of Chicago. Today, Catton tells of plans of a citizens' committee to pull Chicago out of its financial predicament.

BY BRUCE CATTON
Chicago—We are not trying to hit any crowns off the heads of the gentlemen who are wearing them. It's simply a fact that it is incumbent on public-spirited citizens to raise some money to carry on the business of the City of Chicago—and we are trying to do it.

In these words, Silas H. Strawn, former president of the Illinois Bar Association and one of Chicago's most prominent attorneys, explains the aim of the Citizens' Committee with which he and others were trying to bring order into Chicago's chaotic financial situation. It's his answer to charges of "Big Bill" Thompson and other politicians that "Big Business" is represented by the slick loop district in using the present situation to gain control of the city.

HOPE TO RAISE $50,000,000
The plan that Strawn offered was simple—but revolutionary. With the city unable to collect taxes until a reassessment is made and $11,275,000 in unpaid salaries due 40,000 city employees, Strawn's committee of leading business men offered to raise approximately $50,000,000 to protect the city payroll, pay pensions and other vital expenses until tax collections started coming in. They offered to buy tax anticipation warrants in this amount.

But—and here's the rub—in return for lending their money the business men demanded virtual dictation over the city's finances. They insist that every penny go where the need is greatest. They do not want to see this money wasted by the politicians as millions have been wasted heretofore. This casts a terrific shadow over the municipal pie counter—and the politicians are talking about "unrestrained power by big business" and "destruction of elected officials."

But the committee holds the whip hand, because the city administration has been unable to sell any more anticipation warrants to New York and Chicago bankers. Reluctantly, the city council finally voted to accept Strawn's plan, but Mayor Thompson and H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the city school board, up to this writing have refused to do so.

Mr. Strawn disclaims any desire to unseat any politicians or to exercise an undue influence over the city government. SAYS OFFICIALS ARE HELPERS
"It is perfectly obvious," he says, "that the so-called public officials of Chicago are helpless and can't do anything. Therefore it's up to the private citizens to raise the funds to keep the city government going."

"The whole thing dates back a long way. The city and county have been spending more money than they have been receiving in revenue for a long time. A crisis was finally precipitated by their failure to collect taxes due when a reassessment of property values became necessary due to many alleged inequalities. There has been great political resistance to this reassessment. These politicians have built up their little kingdoms by playing politics. So now, naturally—"

"But our committee wants to cooperate. We simply want to help Chicago out of a bad hole."

Chicago, for years, has been spending next year's money this year, by selling tax anticipation warrants. SPENDING MONEY BEFORE IT'S IN
The crash came upwards of a year ago when public indignation over the favoritism that had marked real estate assessments caused the State Tax Commission to throw out the old assessment and order a new one. No taxes can be levied until this job is done.

The Board of Tax Assessors here is very large, and has been at its job of reassessment now for over a year, and the end is not yet.

"The trouble is," one prominent citizen remarked, "everybody is watching this new assessment too closely. The boys simply aren't able to take care of their friends. They've stalled all they could, but they've got to make a new assessment, and they've got to make it a fairly straight one—for, if they don't some taxpayer who gets stuck will go to court again as soon as they get it done, and the whole business will be thrown out once more.

"You see, since this trouble started, Chicago has just been piling one debt on top of another. Expenditures here are always a year to a year and a half in advance of revenue. Now they're about twice that. The banks are loaded up with all the tax anticipation warrants they can possibly handle. So now this Citizens' Committee is trying to raise enough money to keep the wheels moving until the reassessment can be completed and taxes can be collected."

One Chicagoan, who has studied the whole situation carefully, has this to say:

"The scandal in connection with tax assessments has been notorious for years. For instance: there has been a queer tribe of men calling themselves 'tax adjusters.' One of them will call on you and declare that he can get an 'adjustment' in your assessment, lowering your taxes, if you will pay him a fee. He has no official position of any kind, but suppose you pay him? Mystifying and miraculously your assessment is brought down."

WOULD YOU BELIEVE I'VE HAD THESE SHEETS FOR EIGHT YEARS?
HOW DO YOU DO IT? SCRUBBING AND BOILING EVERY WEEK RUIN MY LINENS
NONE OF MY THINGS ARE EVER SCRUBBED...NOT WHEN THERE'S A HARD-WATER SOAP LIKE RINSO TO SOAK OUT THE DIRT
RINSO AGAIN! I MUST TRY THAT SOAP. EVERYBODY'S TALKING ABOUT IT

NEXT WASHDAY
LOOK, MOTHER... DID YOU EVER SEE SUCH SOAPY SUDS—AND IN OUR HARD WATER, TOO? I'M GLAD I CHANGED TO RINSO
ISN'T IT WONDERFUL? I NEVER SAW WHITER CLOTHES

AND
"Fine for dishes, too" says Mrs. N. Stammer, 314 E. Hancock.

"I tried many soaps in my washer before I came to Rinso. There's nothing like it for speed! The suds are so thick and lively, even in our hard water. A little Rinso gives a lot of lasting suds, without the help of a softener. And how white the clothes come! I like Rinso for dishes, too; it loosens grease in a flash. I use it for all cleaning, it's such a help."

MRS. N. STAMMER,
314 E. Hancock, Appleton, Wis.
Rich suds—for tub or washer
Rinso's suds are thick and lasting, even in the hardest water. Dirt loosens, floats off. Clothes come so gleaming white, even boiling isn't needed!
The makers of 38 leading washing machines recommend this hard-water soap for safety and for whiter clothes. One cupful gives twice as much suds as one cupful of lightweight, puffed-up soap. Great for dishes, too. Get the BIG package.

800,000 People In State Without Library Service

MADISON — (AP) — Almost 800,000 people in Wisconsin are without local public library service and three counties have no public library, according to a survey made by Harriett C. Long, head of the traveling library division of the state Free Library Commission.

There are but five counties in which more than half the people maintain libraries and 41 counties in which fewer people live in communities maintaining libraries than live outside and maintain none, the survey indicated.

The survey was written for the current issue of the Library Bulletin, and brings out the writer's opinion that the number of public libraries in a county does not solve the problem. It was pointed out that there are seven public libraries in Waushara and Waupaca counties and yet in each of the counties are more than 20,000 people without library facilities.

Counties which appropriate funds for libraries give only meagre amounts, it was pointed out. Columbia county appropriates $600 annually for county traveling libraries which must serve 17,563 people. The expenditure makes possible only three and one-half cents per capita.

In another county, the survey showed 33,251 people depend on library service from a $150 appropriation—a sum equal to about four tenths of a cent per capita.

Since the publication of the 1925 biennial report of the Library Commission, five libraries have died, according to information received by Miss Long. She said the survey brought out the number of libraries, "born with high hopes, in communities of a few hundred people, and ultimately dying out—usually through lack of adequate resources."

65 TRUANCY CASES ARE REPORTED BY OFFICER
Twelve of the 65 cases of non-attendance investigated during January by J. G. Pfeil, city truant officer, were considered truancy, 30 were attributed to parental negligence and 13 to other causes. Of the 55 absentees, 21 were girls and 34 were boys.

Seven parents were notified of violation of the law, but no cases were brought into court. Six boys and three girls were returned to school during the month. Mr. Pfeil made 121 calls, 19 of which were at schools.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON
Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified crocodile that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creomulsion is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creomulsion, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creomulsion goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germ. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
